NEW MOVE FOR PEACE

Issues of Mine Strike May Be Settled Outside of Commission by Mutual Agreement.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE UNDER WAY

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 21.—It was learned this afternoon that efforts are being made or will be made to settle the differences existing between the mine workers and the operators outside the commission appointed by the president and it is said that the contemplated adjournment will be taken in order to give both sides a chance to get together.

Judge Gray's remarks at today's session suggest this conclusion. None of the attorneys on either side would say anything regarding the matter, but it is understood here that in the interval such an effort will be made.

PROGRESS OF THE INQUIRY.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 21.—The examination of Dr. R. H. Gibbons, of Scranton, was immediately resumed when the anthracite strike commission met today. He said that the occupation of a miner subjects a man to pleurisy, gout, neuralgia, asthma, bronchitis, sciatica and other diseases. He believed the day would come when men will be subjected to medical examination before they undertake mining. Children, he said, who have suffered from any form of disease of the respiratory passages, bronchitis or pneumonia, should never be permitted in the mines under the age of fifteen years, because they should have a chance to eliminate the predisposing factor in the case of so-called miners' asthma.

Dr. Gibbons then described the surface indications of miners' asthma, his testimony in this respect not differing essentially from that given by other expert witnesses.

On further examination Dr. Gibbons said he did not mean to be understood as saying that miners form an unhealthy class, but that they are debilitated and run down. He spoke of the necessity for improved ambulance service at the different collieries.

AMBULANCES DISEASE-LADEN.

The witness was cross-examined by James H. Torrey, for the Delaware and Hudson company. In reply to a question, Dr. Gibbons said he did not believe there was an ambulance in the entire coal regions that had sterile blankets or that the vehicles were sterile.

"In fact," said the doctor, "they are a bunch of infection. Every ambulance carries death and disease to every unfortunate miner who is placed in it."

MINERS FILL POOR HOUSES.

Dr. Gibbons was followed by Dr. Eugene J. Butler, a member of the central poor board of Luzerne county, who testified that 70 per cent. of those in one of the poor houses of Luzerne county were miners and that 40 per cent. were crippled by accidents in and about the mines. Many of these, he said, had become insane through worry over their affliction. A man who works a few years as a miner, he declared, is not fit for anything else.

A. H. McClintock, representing the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company, cross-examined the witness and asked if it was not true that a large number of the professional men and merchants in Wilkesbarre were men whose fathers and grandfathers had been employed in the mines.

"If that is so," the witness replied, "the fathers and grandfathers were the wise fellows who got out in time. They were not men who worked for twenty or twenty-five years in the mines."

COMBINATION NECESSARY.

Dr. Butler was excused and the Rev. Dr. Roberts was called to the stand, his examination being conducted by Mr. Darrow, for the mine workers. He reiterated his belief expressed in his book that an intelligent and persistent combination among miners for the maintenance of prices and rates of wages would secure a just share of the profits for the workers.

In answer to Commissioner Clark, Dr. Roberts defined the use of the words "anthracite syndicate" in his book by saying he had reached the conclusion that there was an understanding among the operators to adjust the prices and regulate the trade. This conclusion he had reached from personal investigation.

"In view of the last strike," Mr. Darrow asked, "and everything that has occurred since, have your views as to the desirability of collective bargaining in the anthracite regions been modified or strengthened or have they changed at all?"

"Strengthened decidedly," the witness replied.

BOTH SIDES IN BAD TEMPER.

After reading extracts from an article in a magizine supposed to have been written by Dr. Roberts, Mr. Darrow asked what was the temper of both parties during the five months of the strike. The witness replied that it was a condition of war and that both sides were intemperate. Dr. Roberts in reply to a question as to what wages a man should receive to maintain the American standard of living, said that he would place the poverty line at $575 per annum. Under that amount, he said, the miner and his family would suffer physically, intellectually and mentally.

The commission adjourned till tomorrow, so that the commissioners could confer regarding a suggested adjournment for a week or ten days in order to allow both sides to prepare their documentary evidence.

WANTS THE FIGURES.

At the close of Dr. Roberts' examination, Mr. Darrow, of counsel for the miners' union, addressing the commission, said that there had been considerable disadvantage in getting the exact evidence and figures which he knew the commission wanted. When he came to these regions, he thought it would be an easy matter to find out the exact amounts paid for wages, but that enough had developed to show that there were scarcely two mines where the wages were the same. To get at the exact truth, therefore, he said it would be necessary to have the due bills of the miners running for a series of years and such information as might be obtained from the company books, which it had been stated would be gladly furnished. It would expedite the work of the commission, therefore, he said, if the representatives of the miners could have experts examine into these figures privately, and to do this would require a little time. There were many questions which on their face seemed to be contested which could be eliminated.

Judge Gray said that the commission would be very glad to co-operate in bringing about the accomplishment of that end. "We have been aware for some time," said he, "that while the testimony that has been adduced has been very interesting, and I will not say it has not been of value still it has not yet been directly upon the points at issue between the parties to this controversy."

URGES CONCILIATION.

Continuing, Judge Gray said: "Acceding to the suggestion just made by counsel that an interval of time be allowed for the preparation of the documentary evidence, and for a possible agreement as to certain facts and figures, which would forward the work of this commission, the commission hope that an effort will be made by the parties to come to an agreement on nearly all, if not all, the matters now in controversy, and that they will adopt the suggestion heretofore made by the commission to counsel on both sides that we aid them in such an effort by our conciliatory offices. It seems to us that many of the conditions complained of and which have been the subject and study of our examinations might be better remedied by the parties to the controversy approaching the subject in a proper spirit and with the purpose of fairly adjusting them. We hope gentlemen, that the interval of time to be granted may be availed of with this end in view. Of course, in the meantime we shall proceed with the work before us as we have begun it."

Everett Warren, attorney for the Erie Railway company, coincided with the views of the commission and the attorneys for the operators' side and suggested an adjournment

MAKES A PROTEST

CHAMBERLAIN REPLIES TO APPEALS OF BOERS.

FULL OF EXAGGERATIONS

POINTS OUT GENEROSITY OF BRITAIN TO BOERS.

BOTHA HAD MISUNDERSTOOD

BOER LEADER HOPES FUTURE MAY CLAIM ATTENTION.

London, Nov. 21.—A parliamentary paper relating to the Boer generals' appeal to the world was published today. In a letter to General Botha Colonial Secretary Chamberlain protests against the "exaggeration in the appeal" and the "incorrect impressions conveyed thereby," and points out that, in addition to the gift of $15,000,000 for the relief of the Boers, Great Britain had been spending $1,000,000 monthly since the close of the war in maintaining the burgher camps as organizations to enable the people to return to their homes. Mr. Chamberlain also suggests that large sums were remitted by the Transvaal to Europe during the war. He says there must be a large balance thereof remaining and invites General Botha's co-operation in finding the persons to whom the money was intrusted and in recovering the balance, which, he says, Great Britain is prepared to add to the sums already provided for the relief of the burghers.

General Botha, in reply, says that until Mr. Chamberlain made his speech of November 5 he understood that the $15,000,000 was partial compensation for war losses. If he had known that it was solely for the relief of destitution the appeal in such form would not have been issued. The general declares he is quite unaware that any sums were remitted to Europe, as alleged, and that if such sums exist he would be very glad to see them devoted to the objects mentioned. He concludes with a congratulatory reference to Mr. Chamberlain's approaching trip to South Africa and an expression of his wish that the controversy regarding the past should be ended and that both sides address themselves entirely to the necessities of the present and future.

A JEALOUS LOVER'S DEED

SLIGHTLY WOUNDS GIRL AND KILLS HIMSELF.

Maddened Because She Accepted Another as Escort, He Sought to Murder Her.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21.—Because Bertha Sheldon had allowed another man to escort her home last night from the store where she is employed G. A. Darlington, a packer for the Ann Arbor Organ company, and a student in the University School of Music, today shot her in the arm and then fired a bullet into his own head, dying almost instantly. Darlington met the girl as she was on her way to work today and they quarreled over last night's episode.

Darlington came here from Stratchona, Ont. He served with the Canadian soldiers in the South African war. He was about twenty-four years of age.

A letter was found later in the yard where the shooting occurred, signed by Darlington. It read as follows:

"Notice. Please do not send my body home. Give it to the doctors in the University hospital. * * * I am as insane as ever a man was and eternally lost. To all friends and dear ones, good-bye. Love to my darling mother."

ROSE STUDENT KILLED.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 21.—Raymond S. Archer, aged 20, a freshman at Rose Polytechnic institute, was run over and instantly killed by a Big Four freight train near here early this morning. Young Archer is the son of N. Samuel Archer, of Pittsburg.

LOW RATE TO ANN ARBOR.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 21.—The Great Western today began booking Minnesota foot ball business at $8 per head for the round trip to Ann Arbor, with $2 additional for round trip sleeping car accommodations. This is the lowest railroad rate made in many years. The company has planned to run a through train of Pullman tourist sleepers with dining car, leaving St. Paul Wednesday noon and arriving at Ann Arbor Thursday noon, leaving on the return trip the same evening after the game. It is almost certain that the other lines will meet the rate.

DIED OF HIS WOUNDS.

Telluride, Col., Nov. 21.—Arthur L. Collins, general manager of the Smuggler-Union Mining Co., who was shot by an unknown assassin on Wednesday night at Pandora, died this morning. He was born in England thirty-three years ago. In consequence of the murder of General Manager Collins the Smuggler-Union Mining Co. has closed its mines and mills for an indefinite period. The company employed between 400 and 500 men.

FORT WAYNE IN NEW LEAGUE

WILL SEE PROFESSIONAL BASE BALL NEXT YEAR.

Central League is Formed at St. Louis —I. Mautner on Circuit Committee.

Fort Wayne is again to have professional base ball as the outcome of a meeting at St. Louis yesterday, when the Central base ball league was organized.

Representatives from Fort Wayne, Marion, Evansville, Terre Haute, Grand Rapids and Dayton were present, and it is certain these cities will have membership in the new organization, together with two other cities yet to be selected. The cities are well located and there will be no long jumps. The organization will be under the protection of the National league.

Terre Haute and Evansville have asked permission to withdraw from the Three-I league to unite with the new Central, and Mr. Mautner, of Fort Wayne; President Bement, of Evansville, and President Smith, of the Terre Haute club, comprise the circuit committee.

STATE Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS.

Peru, Ind., Nov. 21.—The annual state convention of Young Men's Christian Associations of Indiana opened yesterday with a full representation. Two addresses were delivered by Rev. Alexander Patterson, of Chicago, and during the afternoon Indiana's progress during last year was reviewed by the state secretary. The election of officers for the year resulted as follows: President, Daniel W. Sims, Lafayette; first vice president, C. S. Rhodes, Indianapolis; second vice president, Henry Meinhardt, Peru; secretary, G. M. Wells, Crawfordsville; first assistant secretary, T. G. Pierson, Spencer; press secretary, Ralph Mowbray, Peru; treasurer, John F. Wallick, Indianapolis.

WILL PLAY IN ANN ARBOR.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 21.—The University of Minnesota board of control has withdrawn its objections to playing the Thanksgiving game with the Michigan university team at Ann Arbor. President Kennyott wired this morning to the Michigan authorities that Minnesota authorities "accepted the suggestion" to make the change. Coach Williams has arranged to take the squad to Mt. Clemens, Mich. They will leave tomorrow evening and spend the interval before the game in putting on the finishing touches.

RAMBO-DAVIS.

On Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox, on Lafayette street, at 6:30 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Lake, of Calvary U. B. church, united in marriage Miss Ida Davis and William C. Rambo. Mr. and Mrs. Rambo have gone to housekeeping at 605 Walnut street. The groom is a machinist in the Pittsburg shops.

DIED OF APPENDICITIS.

London, Nov. 21.—Anthony J. Drexel's 9-year-old daughter died today at Wytham abbey, near Oxford. She was suddenly attacked by appendicitis and Sir Frederick Treves, sergeant-surgeon to the king, and other great surgeons were telegraphed for by Mr. Drexel. None of them could go to the abbey. An operation was performed at midnight, but the child did not survive it.

HANGED FOR MURDER.

Nelson, B. C., Nov. 21.—Henry Rose was hanged today in the jail yard for the murder of Charles Cole last spring.

HOME FROM HUNT

THE PRESIDENT AGAIN AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

BUCKLES DOWN TO BUSINESS

SEES POLITICIANS BEFORE CABINET MEETING.

MESSAGE CLAIMS ATTENTION

ALL MEMBERS OF THE CABINET PRESENT AT MEETING.

Washington, Nov. 21.—President Roosevelt arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning over the Southern railroad. A little crowd was at the station to welcome his return. As he left the train he shook hands with the engineer and fireman and thanked them for the safe run they had made. The president and Secretary Cortelyou were driven direct to the white house.

Before 10 o'clock the president reached his office in the executive building. He began at once to dispose of a mass of business which had accumulated during his absence.

Prior to the meeting of the cabinet, which had been called for 11 o'clock, the president found time to hold brief interviews with Senators Barrows, of Michigan; Scott, of West Virginia, and Lodge, of Massachusetts.

During the next four or five days, as opportunity may offer, the president will put the finishing touches upon his annual message to congress. It is understood that the message will be sent to congress on the second day of the approaching session, Tuesday, Dec. 2, owing to the fact that deaths of members of both houses have occurred during the recess, which will necessitate an adjournment on Monday. The document is almost completed, but some points of it are yet to be written finally and the whole revised. During the early days of next week the president will consult on parts of his message with republican leaders in congress.

CABINET MEETING.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Every member of the cabinet was present at today's meeting. It was comparatively brief, lasting only about an hour. At its conclusion it was stated that no business of serious consequence was transacted, although some subjects of importance were considered briefly.

Secretary Hay brought with him to the meeting some documents relating to the status of the negotiations pending with Colombia with respect to the Panama canal treaty. He reported the status of the negotiations and it is stated that the president will not be able to say in his message that he is ready to submit to congress a treaty with Colombia in accordance with the Spooner act.

Some portions of the president's forthcoming message to congress were considered, but as the features of the document concerning which any division of opinion might arise have not been prepared definitely, and will not be until the president shall have had time further to discuss them with the leaders in both branches of congress, little respecting the message was accomplished.

Secretary Root remained with the president for a time after the other members of the cabinet had left the executive offices. It is understood that they discussed matters relating to the war department.

MR. HAMILTON HONORED.

President Allen Hamilton, of the Fort Wayne school board, returned last evening from Indianapolis, where he attended the meeting of the State Association of School Boards. Mr. Hamilton was elected fourth vice president of the organization. A general committee, named the general legislative committee, was appointed to watch all educational bills before the coming legislature and to promote those favorable to the best interests of school work. It is composed of S. E. Stockdale, Fremont; W. S. Campbell, Rushville; C. W. Moores, Indianapolis; A. C. Huber, East Chicago; C. R. Kluger, Huntington, and H. S. Stevenson, Rising Sun. The committee organized and will at once prepare for work. It is expected to be an important factor in the legislature.

MURDERER HAD SUICIDED.

Saulte Ste Marie, Mich., Nov. 21.—The body of Noah Hale, who shot and killed his son, Frank, here October 3, has been found under a pile of brush within two miles of his former home. It was discovered by two hunters. Beside the body was the gun which Hale took with him as he rushed from home the day of the murder. A string attached to the trigger was also attached to Hale's foot, showing that he had adopted that device to fire the gun and kill himself.

NEAR TO DEATH'S DOOR.

The aged Mrs. Julia A. Hewes suffered a stroke of paralysis last evening at her home, 428 East Lewis street, and her condition is so critical that physicians are able to hold out practicaly no hope for her recovery. Mrs. Hewes is the widow of the late James Hewes, has resided in Fort Wayne for many years, and is very widely known.

DISCUSSED STREET REPAIRS

BOARD OF WORKS TAKES UP IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Berry Street Will Need Resurfacing; With Asphalt Shortly—City Hall Affairs.

The board of works met in regular session last evening and transacted but little business of record. Informally the resurfacing of West Berry street was discussed. The pavement has now been down eleven years, which is one year longer than the longest guaranty given by asphalt companies, and while the foundation is apparently as good as new, it is quite patent that the street must soon be resurfaced. The contract was originally let to Messrs. Eash and Paul, of this city, who presently bumped into the asphalt trust, and after they were ready to commence surfacing found that they could get no asphalt. They then sublet the contract to the Barber Asphalt company and that concern finished the job near the end of the season and used such material as they had left from other contracts. There was a quiet suspicion at the time that it not being the Barber's job anyway, the company was not inclined to make it any better than the specifications required. Still, the board is inclined to think that the street wore very well under the circumstances. It was the second asphalt street put down in the city and farmers and teamsters alike drove blocks out of their way to get a short haul over the smooth street. The matter of resurfacing it will come up at some future meeting. Superintendent Whealy, of the Barber company, was present and received instructions as to repairs on streets on which the guaranty had not yet expired. There are several of these, principal being Calhoun street, which was built by the Alcatraz company and which is probably the worst piece of pavement ever put down in this city. The Barber company when it absorbed the Alcatraz company also absorbed the mandate to keep Calhoun street in repair for five years.

SIDEWALK PERMITS GIVEN.

Several permits to relay sidewalks under private contract were granted and a remonstrance against building a sewer between Swinney avenue and Stophlet street was filed. Then the assessment rolls on the following improvements were confirmed. Paving the alley between Wayne and Washington streets, from Jackson street to Union street; paving Rockhill street, from old Main street to new Main street; for constructing sewer in the alley east of St. Mary's avenue, from the alley north of High street to Third street, and in the alley between Sinclair and High streets, from the alley east of St. Mary's avenue to the east line of Bass & Hough's addition.

OTHER MATTERS.

The Maumee avenue pavement was not discussed further than to receive a bill from Kieffer & Bailey for the stone furnished for the curbing. Judge Alden then appeared in behalf of the residents of the south part of the city and stated that property owners affected by the assessments for the South Wayne sewer desired permission to employ an expert to examine the sewer before the board confirmed the assessments. The expedient will doubtless be approved, the property owners desiring to do it at their own expense.

Mary Haffner has been granted a permit to build an $800 brick addition to her East Lewis street property.

INVITED TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis council No. 4, United Commercial Travelers, has sent an invitation to the recently organized Fort Wayne council asking members to participate in a meeting of the Indianapolis council December 6, when a class of one hundred is to be initiated. A social session will follow the degree work.

OFFICE FORFEITED

SULLIVAN COUNTY SHERIFF LOSES HIS PLACE.

NOTIFIED BY THE GOVERNOR

ANTI-LYNCHING LAW, OUSTS THE OFFICER.

MUST ASK REINSTATEMENT

THEN PROVE HE COULD NOT PROTECT PRISONER.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—Governor Durbin today notified Sheriff Dudley, of Sullivan county, that his office was vacant and the coroner becomes sheriff ex-officio. The Indiana law provides that a sheriff shall vacate his office when a prisoner in his charge is lynched and the lynching of the negro Dillard last night brought Dudley under its provisions. The sheriff has the right under the law to ask to be reinstated, but he must show that he was powerless to protect his prisoner.

WEDDED AT ST. PAUL'S.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Catholic church Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, when Rev. Father Crull united in marriage Miss Frances Bott and Mr. Gerheart Boehrer. Miss Bott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Bott, of Aboit township, and Mr. Boehrer is a promising young man of Fort Wayne. The bride looked very pretty in a handsome gray gown of wool ponte de louse and trimming of applique, and carried bride's roses. Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, of Roanoke, was maid of honor, and carried pink carnations. Peter Bott, brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ervine Henisler, of 610 Walnut street. Mr. and Mrs. Boehrer have gone to housekeeping in a neatly furnished home on Zollars avenue.

ARRIVE AT 4 O'CLOCK.

Department Commander Benjamin Starr, of the Indiana department G. A. R., together with members of his staff, will arrive in the city at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the inspection of Anthony Wayne post and the camp fire to be held at the court house assembly room this evening. Commander A. R. Walter will entertain the visitors, together with a representative from each of the G. A. R. posts of the city, at a 6 o'clock dinner this evening at his home on West Creighton avenue.

MUST BE VACCINATED.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Fifty students of the College of Liberal Arts of Northwestern university were excluded from classes today because they had not been vaccinated, according to the requirements of the authorities of the institution. Yesterday was the last day of grace for unvaccinated students. Notices of the mandate were posted on the college bulletin boards, together with the names of students who had failed to present to the registrar certificates of vaccination.

CONVICTED OF CRUELTY.

London, Nov. 21.—When the hearing of the charges of cruelty against Mrs. Annie Penruddocke, of Compton Park, Wiltshire, was resumed at the Old Bailey today the defendant was placed in the witness box and made a sweeping denial of all the charges brought against her. A number of her friends testified that they had never seen her daughter subjected to any cruelty. The jury found Mrs. Penruddocke guilty of assaulting and neglecting her daughter in a manner likely to cause unnecessary suffering and injury to her health and censured her husband for countenancing the cruelty. The defendant was fined $250.

LOCAL LINES.

F. G. Gauntt returned this morning from Indianapolis.

Miss Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Denny, of West DeWald street, is quite seriously ill from blood poisoning. The disease is the outcome of a slight scratch received by the little girl some weeks ago while playing with a dog.

The condition of ex-Councilman Aime Radine, who has been seriously ill at his home on Cass street for the past week, appears to be gradually growing more unfavorable. Physicians are able to hold out but faint hope for his recovery and the end may come at any time.

LABOR'S DISPUTES

TROUBLES OF UNIONS ENGAGE AMERICAN FEDERATION.

THE DEBATES GROW HEATED

ISSUE BETWEEN CARPENTERS AND WOODWORKERS.

DEFEAT OF THE SOCIALISTS

New Orleans, La., Nov. 21.—The application of the Union Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners for the revocation of the charter of the Amalgamated Association of Woodworkers was the first thing called up in the labor convention this morning. Wednesday night this work was laid over to see if the two organizations could not agree to amalgamate. President Kidd, of the Woodworkers, announced that until the carpenters would withdraw their men from a certain shop in Philadelphia, where the woodworkers had gone on strike, and the carpenters had taken their places, the matter must be fought out on the floor of the convention.

Treasurer Lennon, who had the chair, declared that but one speaker on each side would be allowed to address the convention on the subject. Delegate Kidd, of the woodworkers, appealed from the decision of the chair. The appeal was successful and the debate, which gave every indication of being a long one, was in full swing.

ATTACKS THE CARPENTERS.

Delegate Braunschung, of the Woodworkers, was given the floor to speak on opposition to the application of the carpenters. He ridiculed the claims of the latter to jurisdiction over the Woodworkers and accused the carpenters of conduct on frequent occasions intended to disrupt other organizations.

Secretary Morrison announced that an error had been made in footing up the vote on the socialist resolution of yesterday. The vote in favor of it was 4,171 and 4,897 against, it being lost by 726 votes.

Delegate Bellmen, of the Carpenters, spoke at length in reply to Mr. Braunschung, denying that the carpenters had been guilty of indirect practices, but on the contrary the Woodworkers were culpable in that direction.

REFERRED TO COMMISSION.

Speaker followed speaker, one accusing the carpenters and the next one denying the statements made and bringing charges against the woodworkers. The arguments consumed practically the entire morning.

Delegates Parkins finally moved the previous question. The vote was taken on the substitute offered on Wednesday by Delegate Wilson that the dispute between the original organizations be referred to a commission of five from each organization and an umpire to be mutually selected, the commission to meet within sixty days. The proposition of Mr. Wilson was adopted.

Upon motion of Delegate Agard the election of offiers was made a special order for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

ANOTHER DISPUTE.

Another discussion was taken up in the dispute in the Amalgamated Association of Woodworkers. The executive council recommended that the pianomakers transfer certain machine workers to the Woodworkers within sixty days, in accordance with a previous agreement, or forfeit their charter. F. H. Murray and Charles Dold, of the pianoworkers, opposed the recommendation and Secretary Kidd, of the woodworkers, spoke in favor of it. Other speeches were made on both sides. Mr. Dold offered an amendment to the report of the committee making it mandatory upon the woodworkers as well as upon the pianoworkers to reach an agreement and that the organization failing to so agree shall forfeit its charter. The amendment was carried. A recess was then taken until 2 o'clock.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

EHINGER.

Funeral services for Miss Anna Ehinger were held this morning from the Catholic church at New Haven. Miss Ehinger's death occurred Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Berghoff, at Washington and Hanover streets, where she had been employed as a domestic. She was eighteen years of age, and her parents reside east of New Haven.

Death was due to a dropsical affection of the lungs. A few days previous to her death she complained of feeling ill, and was prescribed for by a physician who was attending one of the children in the Berghoff family. Her condition was not believed to be serious, but she was taken suddenly worse Tuesday night, and physicians were unable to avert fatal consequences.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Litot.—Funeral services of Rosella, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Litot, will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 from the residence, 1318 West Main street, and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral.

Junghans.—Funeral services of Ferdinand Junghans will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 2522 South Harrison street.

TRAGIC DEATH OF EDITOR.

New York, Nov. 20.—Nelson Hersh, editor of the Sunday edition of the New York World, was instantly killed near his home at West Brighton, Staten Island, today by being thrown from a buggy. He fell on his head, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull. Mr. Hersh was driving home before daylight and his vehicle ran into a ditch which he could not see. The body was taken to his residence. Mr. Hersh was forty-one years old, a native of Rock Island, Ill., and a graduate of Yale, class of '80. He was connected with the Davenport, Iowa, Gazette and on the staff of the New York Commercial Advertiser for several years. Two years ago he became editor of the Sunday World. He left a widow and four children.

THE W. U. WANTS BIG BOND.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—Attorney A. M. Neeper, counsel for the Western Union Telegraph company, in its suit against the Pennsylvania railroad company to restrain the defendant from removing the poles and wires of the Western Union company from along the right of way of the railroad today, presented a petition to the United States court asking that the railroad company be compelled to file a bond in the sum of $100,000, to indemnify the telegraph company for any damage it might sustain by any unlawful action on the part of the railroad people.

RAILWAY ANSWERS HEARST.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Central Railroad of New Jersey today filed with the interstate commerce commission its answer to the complaint of William R. Hearst, of New York, against the anthracite coal carrying railroads. It makes a brief general denial of the allegations and says the company has no knowledge of any injury caused to the complainant by reason of the matters complained of.

MARTIAL LAW REPEALED.

Pretoria, Nov. 20.—Martial law was today repealed throughout the new colonies. The proclamation, however, reserves the right to reimpose military rule in case of necessity, provides for the expulsion of everyone considered dangerous to the peace of the country and authorizes the arrest without a warrant of anyone suspected of sedition.

AMERICAN HAMMERS.

Of the hammers made in America today there is no end. There is the tiny little tack hammer, which weighs only a few ounces and is indispensable in house, store or factory. Then there is the 20 and 30 ton hammer driven by steam and used for making immense forgings. The numberless effects which are due to its remarkable force of impact have made the hammer a necessity in all trades. Immense manufactories, employing thousands of men, are grinding year in and year out making hammers, while ten times as many wholesale houses are busy putting the product on the market. The industry has advanced to such a stage that many general hardware firms in the United States have thrown out the hammer, leaving it to houses that deal in tools exclusively. In the South Sea Islands tree-felling contests are of such importance that specially made axes are imported for the work from America. So skilled are these woodmen of the South Seas in felling timber that a dozen blows on the trunk of a tree will show but the one gash, as though done by a single blow of mighty power.—American Importer.

WOMAN AN EQUAL

NATIONAL GRANGE RENEWS RECOGNITION OF IT.

FAVOR POLITICAL RIGHTS

SAY INTEMPERANCE SHOULD BE CHECKED AND

DIVORCE EVIL SUPPRESSED

NEGLECT OF POLITICAL DUTIES A CRIME.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 21.—The National Grange today renewed its recognition of women's equality by adopting the report of its committee on good of the order, which declared that every possible thing should be done "to put women in possession of all those political rights and property interests that the spirit of modern civilization demands."

The report further says that the vice of intemperance should be checked and the crime of easy divorces which has made America too conspicuous in the eyes of the world, made impossible.

The duty of the grange was declared to be to impress upon the farmer that he is an American citizen with political duties to perform and that the man who neglects them "because politics are too dirty for him, is just as much a criminal as the man who neglects to drain a cesspool that threatens his family because it is ill-smelling."

A resolution endorsing the initiative and referendum was defeated by the committee on resolutions by a vote of 8 to 6. The grange adjourned sine die at noon.

of a week or ten days. It was decided by the commission to adjourn until tomorrow morning to give the commission an opportunity to consider the amount of time they may deem necessary to permit of the preparation of the documentary evidence they desire.

An adjournment, therefore, was taken until tomorrow.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

In the circuit court today Judge Aiken was sitting as special judge hearing the testimony and arguments in the case of Elizabeth Putt, a person of previously unsound mind, against the acceptance of the final report of her guardian, Jacob Keller. The case is still on trial and no other business was transacted.

In the superior court Judge Heaton heard the evidence and arguments in the case of the Crescent Paper company vs. Belmer. The arguments were completed at noon and the case was taken under advisement until tomorrow morning.

The county commissioners will meet in regular session tomorrow morning to transact miscellaneous business.

County Clerk-elect W. A. Johnson after filing his bond yesterday qualified. He will assume the duties of his office January 1.

Solomon B. Stouder has commenced action against Matie Vordermark et al. to recover on a note and mortgage for $150.

Charles Wolf sues Cornelius Ryan and Frank Gebhart, demanding damages in the sum of $800.

Mary Renille has commenced partition proceedings against Eli Kramer and a number of others.

Frederick Gassert alleges in a complaint that he became a member of the Pennsylvania company's Voluntary Relief association in 1889 and remained a member until January, 1900, and paid his dues as a member thereof. He further alleges that during that time he suffered injuries which entitled him to benefits as stipulated by the by-laws of the association for a term of twenty-six weeks; that those benefits accrued to him have never been paid, wherefore he asks for a judgment for $300 and other relief.

Trustee Schirmeyer is at Indianapolis attending a meeting of the State Trustees' association. He will return home tomorrow.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

The commission did not decide upon the sanity of Edward Hoppe yesterday, but will render a decision in the case at 4 o'clock today.

In the case of Jennie Hite-Chapman, referred to elsewhere, a commission of lunacy will examine into her case this afternoon. The commission will consist of Justice France and Drs. Van Sweringen and McCausland.

There was absolutely nothing new in the justices courts today and Justice Straus is still patiently waiting for his first case.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE OWNER,

Professor Shurr and Son, Carl

COMMENCED

MONDAY, Nov. 17,

There Will Be On Exhibition at This Store, On Our Great Third Floor

A MARVELOUS COLLECTION OF NATURE'S WONDERS.

Consisting of a Collection of Over 50,000 Specimens ---That Took Forty Years to Collect---Of Birds, Insects, Reptiles, Etc., Etc.

Caught and gathered from every quarter of this wide world—Australia, New Zealand, Africa, Asia, Russia, France, Germany, England, North and South America, India, etc., etc., and mounted in eighty-seven large display show cases.

No lover of nature or admirer of beautiful objects and beautiful colors should fail to see what the greatest scientific men of the country pronounce the finest and most valuable collection of reptiles and birds in the world. Over 300 Humming birds are shown, one of them is an extinct species, surpassingly beautiful as well as rare, and is valued at $2,000. Among the Butterflies is one which entomologists value at $1,000. Some of the Beetles are as large as snapping turtles.

SCHOOL TEACHERS AND STUDENTS OF NATURAL HISTORY ARE ESPECIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND THIS EXHIBIT AND BRING THEIR CLASS WITH THEM. Professor Schurr will deliver his discourse several times daily and will also answer any inquiries or questions relating to the capture, habits, value etc., of the various species.

ABSOLUTELY FREE TO ALL!

His subject on November 30th will be, "Twenty Minutes With Christ in Bethesda," and on December 1st his subject will be, "The Botany of the Sermon on the Mount," the latter sermon being illustrated by B. J. Griswold. The services are from 4 to 5 o'clock.

TOOK THE SOUTHWESTERN.

The theatrical company producing "The Middleman," arrived in the city from the north at noon today and transferred to the Southwestern electrical line for Huntington, where a performance is to be given this evening. Another theatrical company went to Roanoke this morning by way of the Southwestern.

LIVELY PISTOL DUEL.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 21.—Superintendent of Schools Norman L. Baker and William Bergland engaged in a pistol duel at 11 o'clock Wednesday evening as a result of mistaken identity. Neither party was struck by bullets, but Baker's face was burned with powder. The cause of the affair was a cry for help from Miss Ellen Soneral, who was being escorted from a skating rink party by William Scully. When the couple had neared the home of the young woman they quarreled. Her screams brought three young men to her rescue. When Scully saw them coming he pulled his revolver and began firing. At the same time he started to run, followed by a fusillade of bullets from his pursuers. Scully's flight led him across Baker's yard. Baker, seeing the supposed criminal pass his window, picked up his revolver and rushed to head off the man. On reaching the door yard he was met by Bergland, one of the pursuers, and each, supposing the other was the fugitive, began firing. Scully was arrested and fined $20 for assault and battery.

HELD FOR ORDERS.

Last evening Jennie Chapman-Hite raised a disturbance at the residence of Mrs. Fletcher on East Berry street and prolonged the disturbance until Col. John A. Scott took her into custody and escorted her to the police station. No charge was placed against her and she was simply detained until inquiry into her mental condition can be made. She is well known for her peculiarities and has been twice to the insane asylum.

NEWS OF THE POLICE.

At police court this morning John D. Duncan pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was sent over in default of paying $3 and costs. The extra two simoleons were added to his time on account of the fact that he led Detective Rulo a strenuous life for a few moments when he arrested him on Main street, near Calhoun. The prisoner made quite a fight, which accounts for the fact that Mr. Rulo brought in a higher priced drunk than is usual.

POLICE NOTES.

Frank Keeler found a pocket book on Spy Run avenue, which he delivered at the police station, where the owner can have it on proving property.

A newly laundered pink waist was found on Clinton street last evening and taken to police headquarters. From general appearances it is probable that it fell from some washerwoman's basket as she was delivering her week's washing.

The depot officer reported that a woman from almost anywhere was there waiting transportation to Grand Rapids. The matter was refered to the township trustee.

Officer Smith was off duty last night owing to the illness of his wife. Day Officer Spillner, who was hurt by a fall yesterday morning, has not yet reported for duty and his beat lying east of Barr street to Hanna and from Wayne street south to the railroads has been divided among the other day men in the contiguous district. His injuries are not serious, but may keep him off his beat for several days more.

W. W. Greek, of Bluffton, was among the visitors in the city today.

The theme of Rev. J. Budman Fleming at Westminster church this evening will be "Seven New Testament Commandments." The special meetings at Westminster are increasing in interest.

AFTER MARRIAGE.

Different Living Affects Some People.

"I never drank coffee until after I was married," says a lady from Adairville, Ga.

"My husband drank coffee and I thought it was nice to drink with him, and we enjoyed it together. After a while I found that my digestive organs were much disturbed, but not knowing the cause, I went on drinking coffee and growing more wretched each day.

"In due time, three little girls came to what ought to have been a happy home, but I was nervous and unhappy myself and could not make anyone else happy, to my great consternation, two of my little girls had spasms, and I, a nervous wreck, found it impossible to eat anything that did not hurt my stomach.

"I finally concluded I had heart disease, my heart pained me so much after eating, and my head was so dizzy I often thought I would fall when trying to walk across the room.

"I tried every medicine I heard of, and had different doctors treat me, but with no benefit. I could not sleep half the night, and never slept sound—I would wake out of a frightful dream only to doze and wake again.

"Finally I read of Postum Food Coffee and my husband got a package from our grocer; I made some according to directions. I liked its flavor very much and the first cup seemed to help my stomach. I used it every meal, sometimes making a whole meal on Postum and a bit of bread.

"I improved so fast that I could soon eat anything I wanted. I began to look so much better my friends were surprised and said I looked as well as when I was first married. I could sleep as sweetly as a child. Of course the children quit coffee and drank Postum, and they all began to fatten and the spasms stopped.

"I wish I could impress it on every weak, nervous person to abandon coffee and use Postum Cereal. If every nervous person could have seen me in my nervous affliction from drinking coffee, and could now see me and my little ones around the table enjoying our Postum, they surely would never indulge in coffee again, for there is no more nervous prostration; no more headaches; no more spasms, and I am able to do my own work and care for my children." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NOTICE TO READERS.

The Sentinel is now installing a new Goss perfecting newspaper printing press with a capacity of 25,000 completed newspapers per hour. This is the fastest and finest newspaper press ever brought to this city and when installed will make The Sentinel one of the most perfectly equipped newspapers in the state. Meanwhile, The Sentinel is obliged to send its forms to the Journal-Gazette plant to be printed, an expedient attended with numerous annoyances and embarrassments that detract from the excellence of the paper. Until the new press is installed The Sentinel begs the indulgence of its readers. In ten days The Sentinel will be printed on the new press at which time many other improvements will be inaugurated, making The Sentinel vastly better than it has ever been.

Indiana maintains her bad eminence in the matter of lynchings. In the past five years half a score of men have been murdered by mobs in Indiana. It is no proud record for a state that boasts the greatest public school fund of any in the union.

If it had not to do with so serious a matter the effort of the coal trust lawyers to make it appear that there is nothing specially hazardous to life or menacing to health in coal mining, would be a bit amusing. Those who have studied the statistics of accidents and the conditions of the mines know better, and so they testify to the strike commission.

The association of school superintendents of Indiana have declared their belief that the public educational interests of Indiana require another state normal school. The state normal school at Terre Haute is not surpassed in efficiency by any similar public educational institution in the country, but the superintendents believe it is inadequate to the demands upon it. Doubtless the superintendents are right, and if they are and the state finally determines to establish another normal school, there is no city in Indiana which offers so many advantages, geographical and otherwise, as Fort Wayne. This will be the proper place for establishment of the new school and Fort Wayne people should keep an eye on the project.

No sensible person will dispute the proposition that there should be the utmost harmony and sympathy between the governor and the various governing boards it is the governor's duty to appoint. There ought always to be a spirit of hearty co-operation and mutual confidence as well as perfect candor in their relations. But the governor should appreciate the limitations the law has fixed to his office in these matters. His duty begins and ends with the appointment of the boards. If any board member is guilty of misconduct or neglect of duty the law provides the method of proceeding against him that he may be removed. The trouble between the governor and his boards has chiefly come from his failure to respect the prescribed duty and responsibility of the members. There is ground to believe he has sought to dictate appointments which only the boards have power to make. In the Jeffersonville reformatory imbroglio, for instance, it is pretty well understood the governor had a man already picked for the place when Warden Heit should get out, albeit the warden got out much sooner than the governor had reason to expect. A governor who neither transcends nor attempts to transcend his legal functions in these matters is likely to have very little trouble with his boards. Governor Matthews experienced no embarrassments of the sort, nor did Governor Mount.

FREE LECTURE.

The noted traveler, sanscrit scholar and theosophist, Charles Johnston, will deliver a lecture on "The Religion of the Will" at the Commercial club rooms on Saturday evening, Nov. 22. Lecture will commence at 8 o'clock sharp. Persons attending will take elevator. Mr. Johnston was for several years in the Bengal civil service and while in India had many opportunities for studying the religions and character of the peoples of the far east. His lecture will contain many valuable thoughts upon their religious customs.

There will be preaching services at Friendship M. E. church on Sunday morning at 10:30, with Sabbath school at 9:30 and Epworth league in the evening. Preaching services at Oak Grove at 3 p. m. Special revival meetings will begin at St. Joe chapel November 30th. Sabbath school in St. Joe chapel every Sunday at 2:30.

FLED AS OFFICERS CAME ON

TWO CAMPERS ABSCOND FROM GODFREY PLACE.

Left Behind Their Horse, Buggy and Other Valuable Property—Affair a Mystery.

Last evening about 8 o'clock Deputy Sheriffs Reitholderfer and Huguenard responded to a telephone call from the county infirmary and went to the Godfrey farm near the poor farm on the Bluffton road, where a couple of suspiciously acting strangers had been located for two days. The strangers, who are unknown, were camped in a grove near the road and arrived there sometime on Wednesday afternoon or evening. The officers named went to the place and reconnoitered and later Officers Dascler and Ryan also appeared in response to a telephone call. The mobilizing of this force of officers was due to the statements made by Charles Strack and others living in the vicinity that the men under suspicion were heavily armed, that they acted cautiously and that one was always on guard while the other was away. Two Winchester rifles and as many heavy revolvers were said to be part of their equipment. When the officers approached the place the men became alarmed and abandoning their camp ran through the timber and surrounding grove and made good their escape, leaving everything except their arsenal behind. Pursuit was made, but owing to the darkness and the rugged condition of the ground it was soon abandoned as hopeless. In the camp were found a horse and buggy, half a dozen heavy blankets, several lap robes and the incidental paraphernalia of a camper's outfit.

That is about all there is to the relation of facts, although theories without number have been offered. The two men were first noticed there on Wednesday evening, but it is known that both left the place early in the night, taking everything with them. Later they returned and were seen there yesterday. To neighbors they said they were horse traders and offered to buy, sell or trade horses and to the elder Charles Strack exhibited a roll which he said contained $172; they acted suspiciously all the time, however, and one neighbor who ventured close the other evening says he thought he heard them sharpening their burglars' tools, but could not say but what they may have been mending their harness. There remains one indisputable fact and that is that they ran away and left a lot of valuable property behind which they would not have done had they had no occasion to fear arrest. Among some of the stuff found was a pair of new leather lines stolen from a barn in the vicinity.

When the police posse approached the place where the men were in hiding or in camp it is evident that one had already retired and that the other was on guard. Alongside of the buggy were spread a number of blankets, which constituted their bed. Part of the blankets were intended to serve as a mattress while the others were used for covering, a theory corroborated by the fact that the top two blankets were thrown back just as though the man under them had hastily got up and did not take the time to replace them. At this writing the officers are all at sea and the only thing that they positively know is that an attempt to apprehend the two men failed because the men ran away before officers could get close enough to them to even question them—and that they ran away leaving behind property consisting of a horse, a buggy, some blankets and robes of an approximate value of several hundred dollars. No description of any stolen property corresponding to that found has been received by either the sheriff's or the police departments.

Up to the time of going to press the sheriff's office is in receipt of no new information concerning the fugitives and diligent inquiry in all directions has failed to give the officers any clue as to what became of the men who so suddenly disappeared. A careful search of the records fails to disclose a description of any such horse or buggy as the sheriff now has in his possession.

HORSE STOLEN AT LEO.

This forenoon a telephone message from Leo conveyed the information that a 2-year-old bay mare, a top buggy and a set of harness was stolen from the stable of Christian Boehm, the Leo saloonkeeper. The sheriff's office secured a description of the animal and postal cards giving it and announcing the theft will be mailed out this evening. It was suggested that perhaps the fugitives from the Godfrey farm had made their way to Leo and becoming exhausted had helped themselves to Mr. Boehm's outfit and used it to aid their escape, but the sheriffs do not take any stock in the theory. They think the Leo thief is an altogether different party.

Shortly before noon the sheriff at Auburn telephoned that an abandoned horse and buggy had been found this morning at Auburn Junction. Meanwhile Mr. Boehm had come in from Leo and he readily identified the Auburn discovery as his missing property, from the telephone description. Mr. Boehm took the noon train for Auburn to more fully establish his opinion and sent the vehicle he came to town in to his home at Leo. The Auburn officers have no knowledge as to how the abandoned horse and buggy came to be left at Auburn Junction.

KISSED TO DEATH.

On the arrival of the Australian soldiers at Melbourne from the seat of war they were welcomed by a crowd whose enthusiasm the police were quite unable to stem, says the Grand Rapids Herald. The female portion was particularly demonstrative, the men being in many instances literally torn from the rank to be the recipients of a veritable hurricane of favors from fair lips. Many were completely overcome, and one actually fainted under the labial salutes of 300 Victorian damsels.

Though these victims escaped without actual hurt, such immunity has not always been the case. In the autumn of 1900 a doctor was called in to see a young woman who was said to be suffering from an attack of pleurisy. On examining her, however, he discovered that one of her ribs was fractured—an injury which, it subsequently transpired, she had received at the hands, or rather the arms, of her fiance, who had too ardently embraced her on the occasion of their last parting.

Betty, the Infant Roscius, when at the zenith of his juvenile fame, was on one occasion walking with some ladies when another bevy of female admirers bore down upon him and, pulling him away from his companions, commenced to lavish upon him endearments and kisses. The others promptly rushed to their idol's rescue, who, between the contending parties—each determined to possess the boy actor was thrown to the ground and so much bruised and injured as to be unable to appear for a couple of nights.

Insignificant, however, was the misfortune to the fate that befell M. de Langy, a courtier of the time of Louis XV., whose supreme conceit so irritated certain ladies of the court that they resolved to inflict upon him a novel punishment. Feigning one day to be overcome by the beauty of his face and person, they fell upon him en masse, hugging and kissing the wretched dandy till he cried for mercy. Deaf to his entreaties, the ladies continued their caresses until the object of their mock love, who, indeed, was but a sorry weakling in endeavoring to break away from their clutches, broke a blood vessel and died a few days later.

Amurath IV., the Turkish sultan, suspecting one of his ministers of having designs upon the sanctity of his harem, ordered the culprit to be kissed to death by his female slaves. This sentence was actually carried out, the miserable victim being securely fastened to the ground and then suffocated by the caresses and kisses of his female executioners, who were stimulated to unflagging exertion by the unrelenting rods of the tyrant's eunuchs.

Musical "lions" seem in especial danger of this novel method of assault, and many of our most famous pianists have run the gauntlet, only to emerge crushed and exhausted from the ordeal.

RELUCTANT WITNESS FOUND.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Albert Sechrest, of Kansas City, who was supposed to have committed suicide rather than be a witness for the state in the case of Dr. Louis Zorn, a dentist, charged with killing her husband, was found here today at the home of her parents and admitted she had been in hiding there for the past five days. Mrs. Sechrest wished to avoid testifying at the trial and last Monday threw a note pinned to a hat into the river at Leavenworth, stating that she had drowned herself and baby. "I meant to kill myself and baby," she said today, "but the water was too cold."

DEMANDS A SETTLEMENT.

San Domingo, Santo Domingo, Nov. 21.—United States Minister Powell had a long interview with the minister of foreign affairs today regarding the claims of the Santo Domingo Improvement company, of New York, which asserts that it has been unjustly deprived of certain valuable franchises conferred upon it by the Dominican government. Mr. Powell demanded an immediate settlement of the matter.

SEEKING A CITY ENTRANCE

GOSHEN-FORT WAYNE LINE ATTORNEY HERE.

Lima Directors Hold Meeting Today —Securing Options on the Southern Route.

Attorney Wilbur L. Stonex, of Goshen, representing the Fort Wayne and Goshen Traction company, was in Fort Wayne this morning on business for his company, and when queried by a reporter for The Sentinel as to what was being done by his company said:

"We are moving along quietly and trying as much as possible to keep out of the newspapers for the present. There are countless little details connected with a project of this kind which need attention before the work of construction can begin, and we are taking them up as rapidly as possible."

It is learned, however, that one of the objects of Mr. Stonex's visit at this time was to take up informally with the authorities the matter of an entrance for his road into Fort Wayne, though no hint of the route was made public. Surveyors some weeks ago completed one survey in the city, and the engineers are expected today to take up the work of running a number of additional lines into the city before a definite decision is made.

LIMA DIRECTORS MEET.

Directors of the Fort Wayne, Van Wert and Lima electric line held a meeting in Fort Wayne today to consider a number of proposals for iron and other supplies for the new interurban. Hon. James Murdock, of Lafayette, was the first to arrive, and among others who were here were J. D. Neeley and D. J. Cable, of Lima. Representatives of a number of supply houses were on hand to submit estimates on the supplies.

GETTING MANY OPTIONS.

Vice President W. F. Divnen, of the Fort Wayne, Bluffton and Richmond line, says his company is securing options on right-of-way between Fort Wayne and Bluffton rapidly, and is much encouraged over the enthusiastic reception which the project is meeting. About four miles of the right-of-way between Fort Wayne and Ossian has been secured, and between Ossian and the Wells county line the right-of-way is practically all taken up.

COACH MASON IS BARRED.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 20.—Assistant Coach Mason was barred from the secret practice of the Harvard foot ball team yesterday by Head Coach Farley. It was understood that Farley and Captain Kernan, of the Harvard eleven, had received information that Mason had used his knowledge of Harvard tactics to help Dartmouth in last Saturday's game. At any rate, when Mason appeared on Soldiers' field for practice yesterday Coach Farley objected to his presence and after some talk Mason was accompanied off the field by another coach. Coach Farley says that he had good reason for acting as he did, but beyond that he will not discuss the case. Mason is a former foot ball player and star member of the Harvard base ball team.

CLOSE ALL CAMDEN SALOONS.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 20.—Mayor Newry today, in obedience to a writ of ouster issued by the state supreme court, ordered the closing of all liquor saloons within the city limits. The court recently declared unconstitutional the act of the legislature creating the city excise board, and consequently all licenses granted by that body are void. A special session of councils will be called to reissue licenses, but it will probably be two weeks before the saloonkeepers can resume business.

CARRIED NITRO-GLYCERINE.

Warren, Ohio, Nov. 20. Two burglars robbed the postoffice at West Farmington early today, securing only a small sum of money and some stamps. They escaped on a southbound Baltimore and Ohio freight train. The police here were notified and several officers, armed with shotguns were waiting when the freight arrived. One of the burglars jumped and escaped in the darkness, while the other was captured. He gave his name as Frank Howells, Johnstown, Pa. He had a pint of nitro-glycerine and two revolvers on his person.

BLACKMAILER CONFESSES.

New York, Nov. 20.—Bartho Strobel, who with Jacob Gantetz, Frederick Becker and Fritz Seeber, were arrested yesterday in Hoboken on a charge of complicity in an attempt to blackmail two Jersey City merchants, today confessed to Chief of Police Murphy of Jersey City that he wrote the threatening letters in question. He also admitted to having written ten other letters of a similar nature. After hearing Strobel's statement Chief Murphy decided there was no case against the other three prisoners and accordingly liberated them.

MR. FLEMING IS FOR KERN.

(Indianapolis Journal.)

State Senator Stephen B. Fleming, of Fort Wayne, is in the city to attend the sessions of the charities conference. Last evening at the English he was talking with a group of friends and the subject of the recent election was brought up. "You can't get me to talk about that," said the senator. "I never discuss the verdict of the jury after it is rendered. There isn't very much to talk about in this case anyhow."

Senator Fleming was one of the active members on the minority side of the senate last term, and he was asked if he expected to bring down a number of bills this winter. "No," he replied, "I shall bring nothing with me but a clear conscience. The only thing that I am looking forward to in connection with the session this winter is the bringing up of John W. Kern's name to receive the complimentary vote of the democrats for United States senator. I want to vote for him."

Mr. Fleming is the democratic holdover senator from Allen and Adams counties.

UNIONIST MEMBER STONED.

Belfast, Nov. 20.—Thomas W. Russell, the liberal unionist member of parliament for South Tyrone, was stoned by a mob after he had addressed a meeting at Dromore last night. The rioters attacked the hall where Mr. Russell had made his speech and caused him to seek refuge in a neighboring house, whence he tried to escape in a carriage. The mob discovered him and bombarded the vehicle with stones. Mr. Russell was struck on the head, but not seriously injured. Mr. Russell began another land campaign near Belfast early in October. He declared that 50 per cent. of the landlords were ready to sell their land under a fair scheme and suggested a new basis for land purchase under which the state would give $50,000,000 for the benefit of the landlords. Mr. Russell is opposed to home rule for Ireland.

FATHER HAD WARNED YOUNG.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—J. MacFarlane, father of Florence MacFarlane, who was killed, it is alleged, by Mrs. Frank Young at Rochester, N. Y., Monday, learned of his daughter's death upon his arrival here today. Mr. MacFarlane, who is a traveling man, said his daughter and Frank Young had been infatuated for some time and that he had warned the latter to cease his attentions to Miss MacFarlane. Mr. MacFarlane was preparing to telegraph his daughter a birthday present when the news of her death was broken to him. He declared that Mrs. Young and his daughter had been intimate friends, but denied that the latter was a music teacher.

FIRE BRICK TRUST DEAL.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—The Harbison-Walker Refractories company has closed negotiations for the absorption of the Portsmouth-Kentucky Fire Brick company at Portsmouth, Ohio. The price paid for the plant was, it is said, close to $2,000,000. This is the plant the company desired to purchase to complete the original plans of the corporation when it was organized, and for which an increase in the capital stock from $25,300,000 to $27,600,000 was made a few days ago.

WOLFFS' The Best and Largest Outfitters for All Mankind in Indiana.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Firm cables and smaller receipts imparted strength to wheat at the opening and both December and May opened higher, the former unchanged to ¼c higher at 75⅝@75¾c, while May was up a shade to ¼@⅜c at 76@76¼c. Offerings were free at the advance and a decline ensued. Liquidation of December was especially heavy, causing a decline to 74½c, but renewed covering brought a rally to 75⅛c. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 840 cars, which, with local receipts of 64 cars—15 of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 904 cars, against 886 cars last week and 856 cars a year ago.

Further liquidation in the latter part of the day caused a weaker feeling and the close was easy, with December ⅝c lower at 74¾c and May down ⅞@1c at 75¼c.

Corn opened strong on higher cables and unfavorable weather with a fair demand both for December and May. Locals sold freely of December and that option was unsettled. The opening was ¼@⅜c higher at 58¼@58½c, declined early to 58c, only to rally again to 58⅝c. On further realizing the price dropped again to 58c. Local receipts were 119 cars, with 6 of contract grade. Oats opened weak. December 1¼c lower at 53¾c, May ⅛c easier at 53⅝c.

Provisions opened strong in sympathy with wheat and corn. Shorts and commission houses were active buyers of May, while offerings were limited. December opened 5@10c higher at 36⅝c to 37c, declined later to 36¾c. Trade receipts were 98 cars.

There was an easier tone to provisions at the opening influenced chiefly by weakness in the hog market. January pork opened unchanged at $15.60; January lard unchanged at $9.20, and January ribs a shade lower at $8.05.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows:

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 21.—The stock market opened with some show of hesitation today, most of the leading active stocks showing fractional variations either way from yesterday's final prices. Interest was [illegible] to 153⅛ and immediately rose up to 154½, compared with 153¾ last night. Metropolitan Street Railway and Brooklyn Transit fell nearly a point each.

Bull operators took hold of the market and bought large amounts of the railroads and industrials which were conspicuous in yesterday's rise. Their strength permeated the entire list and influenced a better demand for numerous minor stocks. Advances reached from 1 to 3 points in Pennsylvania, Missouri Pacific, Louisville, Rock Island preferred, Amalgamated Sugar, Baltimore and Ohio, Reading, Tennessee Coal, Toledo, St. Louis and Western stocks, Hocking Coal, Kansas City Southern and Pacific Coast common and second preferred. St. Paul gained 2⅝ and Kansas City Southern preferred and Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred 2%. Brooklyn Transit and Metropolitan Street Railway rose fractionally above yesterday's close, but fell off subsequently and Manhattan broke to 151¾. Dealings in Manhattan were very heavy, but the general market moved independently of its course.

The advance made further progress here and there, notably in St. Paul, which advanced 3¼ in all to 176⅜. Manhattan meanwhile broke to 149⅜, the somewhat circumstantial reports of its lease to the Inter-borough Rapid Transit company forcing large realizing sales on the market. The stock of the latter company, which is dealt in in the curb market, jumped 10 points in consequence of the reports. Profit-taking sales, coupled with the steady selling of Manhattan, caused a reaction in prices all around later, but at noon the market was rising again.

The bond market was more active and higher at noon.

Trading developed a buoyant tone under the influence of an enormous absorption of prominent speculative leaders. St. Paul was easily the feature, advancing 4⅝ and touching 177¾. Louisville, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island preferred and Amalgamated rose from 2¾ to 2⅝, while gains of a point or more were general elsewhere. The belief that an important deal is on in the local traction situation was the most important influence on the market and had much to do with the heavy covering by the short interest all through the list. Heavy buying orders were executed again in Manhattan and the price rose steadily to 153¼. Brooklyn Transit and Metropolitan Street Railway were neglected and sluggish.

Business quieted down considerably and there came some recessions on profit-taking, but the market's strong undertone was not much impaired and special stocks continued to rise readily. Rock Island is [illegible] bringing the control [illegible] and the preferred to 81⅛, the latter figure representing a gain of 5 points. Manhattan fell back to 151.

The bulls maintained their control of the market and experienced little opposition in pushing prices steadily upwards. St. Paul maintained its supremacy in the market and improved steadily to 179¾. Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Reading and all other important railroad stocks reached a higher price level, reflecting gains in many cases of over 2 points. The specialties were quiet, Manhattan, though, recovering to 150, was quite feverish. The market closed active and buoyant.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Nov. 21.—Money on call steady at 4@4½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent; sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at 487@487.125 for demand and at 483.625@483.75 for 60 days; posted rates, 484½@500 and 485; commercial bills, 482.75@483.25; bar silver, 48⅞; Mexican dollars, 39.

Government bonds weak.

LEOPOLD NOT FRIGHTENED

BELGIAN KING SAYS HE WILL DO HIS DUTY.

Makes a Striking Speech in Reply to Address of Congratulation on His Escape.

Brussels, Nov. 20.—King Leopold made a somewhat striking reply today to a deputation from the chamber, headed by the president, who presented his majesty with an address of congratulation on his escape Saturday from the anarchist's bullet. After thanking the deputies, the king continued:

"The times are very troubled. Agitators are constantly stirring up their followers to disturb that order which is the guarantee of public liberties. Without order only license remains, which leads inevitably to despotism. These agitators find in their path firstly the heads of states. If they fail to reach them they attack their wives, as in the case of the horrible drama at Geneva. Their blows are also aimed at ministers, as in the case of Senor Canovas, and they also blow up the houses of private individuals. They want to intimidate us, but they will not succeed. Even if they struck down the head of the state it would make no difference, as he would soon be replaced. In addition to revolver shots they employ the pen, with which they [illegible] what calumnies they [illegible] during the end of my [illegible] I do not know how long I shall live—how long they will let me live; but I can assure you that all the rest of my existence will be devoted within the limits of my constitutional powers to the good of my country and the protection of its liberties."

ADMITS HE IS A PERJURER.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Captain Edward Williams, former manager of the Masonic Temple and convicted conspirator against Cook county, who took the stand yesterday as a witness for the prosecution in the trial of President James H. Gormley, of the Masonic Fraternity Temple association, on the charge of conspiracy, admitted on cross examination today that he committed perjury in swearing to a false affidavit in the course of his own trial.

The cross examination was directed throughout toward the discrediting of the witness' veracity. The re-direct examination occupied much of the forenoon session of the court.

Facts About Medicine

"If your Vinol is such wonderful stuff, what's the need of harping about it so much in the paper." A remark heard in our store.

We answer: We advertise Vinol because we have found it a good thing.

We advertise Vinol under our own name and with our own guarantee, because it is different from the twenty medicines my friend aluded to. For instance, it is not a secret preparation. It is endorsed by physicians. It has a surprising record of cures right here in town. It has our absolute guarantee of money back if you are not helped.

We advertise Vinol to increase its usefulness. We may repeat, but we remember that the great Senator Benton said, "Ding-dong is the most effective argument," meaning that you have to say a thing a good many times before you can get people to believe it.

So we want to say once more that we believe Vinol will do effective work in ninety-eight cases out of one hundred of debility, nervousness, insomnia, bronchitis, hacking cough, lung troubles, and the obscure troubles of irritable and fretful men and women.

REMOVAL!

Dr. J. M. Rosenthal,
DENTIST

Has moved his office from 72 South Harrison St. to 209 W. Berry, Flick building. Phones, 1327 Main; residence, 237 Main.

Gilbert S. Lewis, of Crafton, Pennsylvania, has been appointed general superintendent of the Gulf, Arizona and Salt Lake City railroad. Mr. Lewis has had a large railroad experience on the Baltimore and Ohio. He will commence his active labor on January 1.

C. R. Colmey, road foreman of engines of the Pennsylvania, is again under quarantine restrictions. Scarlet fever, which attacked one of his children several weeks ago, has laid hold of another member of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Colmey have the sympathy of all the railway men.

Mrs. A. S. Preston left yesterday for a visit of a week or two with friends in Steuben county.

TRESTLE BURNED

FIRE BLOCKS NICKEL PLATE AT CLAYPOOL.

FORT WAYNE MAN ADVANCED

LOUIS S. KINNARD MASTER MECHANIC OF C. A. & C.

STRIKE STATUS UNCHANGED

PRESIDENT RAMSEY ALONE HAS MATTER IN HAND.

A trestle over a little creek a short distance east of Claypool burned out at an early hour this morning, completely blocking traffic on the Nickel Plate at that point. The only passenger trains materially delayed by the accident were Nos. 5, westbound, and 6, eastbound, which made detours. To make matters worse with No. 6, that train got two of its sleepers off the rails at the Y at Columbia City as it was leaving the Eel River road to return to its own line and it took an hour or more to put the wheels back in position and the train did not reach this city until 11 o'clock. The wreck crew and a big gang of carpenters were hurried to the scene and they will soon have the trestle repaired.

FORT WAYNE BOY PROMOTED.

It will be very gratifying news to the friends of Louis S. Kinnaird to learn that that gentleman has received further advancement in railway work. A bulletin issued by Superintendent H. W. Thornton, of the Columbus, Akron and Cleveland road, received at the Pennsylvania offices this morning, announces the appointment of Mr. Kinnaird to the responsible position of master mechanic of that road, succeeding John Dalman, jr., resigned, to take a similar position at Newark, Ohio, with the Baltimore and Ohio. Mr. Kinnaird is a son of Robert Kinnaird, the veteran machinist at the Wabash shops, and is a native of this city. At the close of his term at the High school he secured a postion as special apprentice at the Pennsylvania shops and worked there and in the offices of the motive power and mechanical department until he entered Purdue university, from which institution he graduated five or six years ago. While a student at Purdue he spent the vacation seasons in the shops and when he graduated he returned there and worked until he was sent to Allegheny to take the foremanship of the shops. The appointment of a successor to Mr. Kinnaird has not yet been made. The main shops of the C., A. & C. are located at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and that city will be Mr. Kinnaird's home.

PAID TWO POLICIES.

C. A. Scott, recorder for the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, has received and will pay over to the proper parties two drafts from the insurance branch of the brotherhood. One calls for $400 and is payable to J. H. Swartz, of Antwerp, Ohio, on account of the death of his brother, which occurred from typhoid fever a short time ago. The other draft is for $1,200 and is payable to Mrs. F. C. Wilhelm, of Evanston, Ill., whose husband died from diphtheria while visiting in Ohio a short time ago. Both of the deceased men were brakemen and members of the brotherhood.

MEET AFTER LONG SEPARATION

Louis Spires, of Colorado, arrived in the city last night and will be the guest of relatives for a few days. Mr. Spires is a half-brother of John Repine, Pennsylvania yard foreman, and the two men met last night for the first time since 1866, thirty-six years ago.

WAGE SCHEDULES BULLETINED.

The Pennsylvania officials and clerks having the matter in hand have completed the new wage schedule in accordance with the 10 per cent increase order and bulletins were today posted in the various departments. The notices were eagerly scanned by the employes as soon as they learned that they were there.

THE ACCIDENTS.

Christian Gebfert, the Pennsylvania brakeman who lost both legs in an accident at Clark Junction several weeks ago, will have to submit to a surgical operation for the removal of some slivers of bone which keep one of the wounded legs from healing. He will be taken to St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. C. B. Stemen will perform the operation.

A. VanHorn, a car builder, slipped down the embankment at the scene of the Fairfield avenue wreck and severely sprained his back. E. Louttit, of the Pennsylvania smith shop, is off duty on account of a burned wrist. The accident happened several days ago. F. Lenz, a springmaker, is again suffering from a sore foot, the trouble originating in a corn several months ago. After several weeks' absence he recently resumed work, thinking the wound about well. Inflammation has set in again, however, and he is threatened with another serious time with the wound.

G. R. & I. RAISES WAGES.

General Manager J. H. P. Hughart, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, returned to Grand Rapids from the east unexpectedly early this afternoon, says the Grand Rapids Press. His trip east was made to attend the meeting of the Central Freight association, but Mr. Hughart was able to go no further than Pittsburg, and he remained there up to the time of his start for the return west. He comes back announcing that the men in the employ of the Grand Rapids and Indiana are to have an increase in wages and salaries. This raise in the ranks of the employes of the Grand Rapids and Indiana will be general, but the amount is not as yet definitely fixed by Mr. Hughart. It will, however, take such form that all of the men will be recognized and will take effect when the details can be worked out, just at what time is not as yet announced.

AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS.

Yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected by the Ladies' auxiliary to the Railroad Y. M. C. A.:

President—Mrs. J. W. Burns.
Vice Presidents—Mrs. Amos Sine and Mrs. Hettler.
Secretary—Mrs. Conklin.
Treasurer—Mrs. F. M. Mauk.

The meeting was held in the association rooms and it will be the last until after the holidays. The auxiliary voted $10 to the state work.

CARS OFF TRACK AT PIERCETON

Three cars got off the siding of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pierceton yesterday afternoon while the crew of the local freight was engaged in switching. The cars were loaded with catsup and pickles and were being transferred from the big Pierceton pickling establishment to the main line when the wreck occurred. One car was turned over upon its side.

ON A HUNTING EXPEDITION.

Vice President Joseph Wood, of the Pennsylvania, arrived in the city last night and this morning, accompanied by other officials, he left on a special train for Columbia City and thence down the line on the Eel River road in search of quail. F. I. Brown, lumber purchasing agent of the company, accompanied the hunting party.

ORGANS TO GERMANY.

WILL ABOLISH RED TAPE.

With a view of facilitating the movement of freight in the yards of the Pennsylvania company at Pittsburg, President A. J. Cassatt has abolished the red tape methods of transacting business between the several divisions of the Pennsylvania lines. Concerning this matter the Pittsburg Dispatch said yesterday: "Superintendents, operating department heads, chief train dispatchers and yardmasters of the different divisions of the Pennsylvania began yesterday to hold two councils of war daily to facilitate the moving of freight. This is the first of the heroic measures that will follow President Cassatt's investigation Tuesday of the freight congestion about Pittsburg. The first of the councils was held yesterday morning. The operating officials of the lines east and west of Pittsburg organized themselves into a committee, with R. M. Patterson, general superintendent of Pittsburg terminals, as chairman. The committee will meet every morning and every night, and at each meeting the superintendents will be accompanied by their dispatchers and yardmasters, which will obviate all correspondence between the different division headquarters and afford an opportunity for immediate relief to the division most needing assistance from the others. For instance, the Fort Wayne needed assistance at Conway yesterday, and the Panhandle having ten engines that could be spared, they were immediately dispatched there and anything like a blockade was averted."

HIRED FIFTY MEN.

Over fifty men have found employment at the electric works during the week just ending, swelling the list of shop employes at that place to 827. There is still room for more help and it is quite likely that before the holidays the pay rolls will have reached 1,000. Supt. J. J. Wood made the remark to a Sentinel reporter last spring that the Fort Wayne Electric company would be employing 1,200 men in its factory within the next two years and it now seems that that prophesy is to be fulfilled before the expiration of the two year limit.

FOUND HIS OVERCOAT.

Machinist M. J. Murphy, of the Wabash shops, recovered his overcoat this morning and is feeling pretty jubilant over the fact. The garment was taken from the Shamrock club rooms a few evenings ago and the police found it last night and returned it to the owner. Mr. Murphy is a son of Officer Murphy.

WEEKLY ENGINE OUTPUT.

Five engines were repaired and turned out of the Pittsburg shops during the week just closing. They were Nos. 7363, 7114, 7274, 7173 and 208. During the week Nos. 281, 284, 119, 131 and 7265 were taken in for repairs.

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION.

There is nothing new to chronicle about the Wabash shopmen's strike. The question is in the hands of Mr. Ramsey and the strikers' committee at Springfield and until they get together, there will be no change in the situation.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Mrs. Wirth, of Sandusky City, O., is the guest of her son, George J. Wirth, of the Pennsylvania telegraph office.

Master Mechanic H. J. Herstman, of the Enss works, went to Indianapolis yesterday on business for the company.

Julian LaBoub, a former citizen of Fort Wayne, arrived in the city this morning and will remain here a few days, visiting old friends.

Charles Wahrenburg, who had been visiting relatives in the city, left for his home in Pueblo, Col., last night. Mr. Wahrenburg was formerly employed as a brakeman on the Nickel Plate; he is now employed on the Missouri Pacific.

Frank McNulty, of the Electric works, has gone to the country to visit relatives a few days.

Contractor Henry Mollet has commenced the erection of a house at the corner of DeWald and Oakley streets for Mr. Kabish.

Charles McIntosh, a truckman at the Wabash freight house, is sick. L. Smith, a painter for the same company, is also sick.

Passenger Conductor G. J. Tuckey, of the Pittsburg, was taken sick in Chicago last night and had to "dead head" home on No. 20 today.

I. Bott and P. Wagner, Pittsburg shopmen, are sick; E. B Simcoe, also a shopman, has gone to Roanoke to see his father, who is said to be very sick.

Charles Schreck, who is engaged in sodding lawns during the summer season and employed in the boiler shop of the Pittsburg in the winter time, will return to the latter work December 1.

A request to send a fireman to Plymouth to take the place of C. B. Deemer, who is on the Pennsylvania work train, is taken as evidence that that gentleman is sick.

E. G. Simonton a flue cutter in the Pittsburg shops, has taken a week's leave of absence, which he will spend with friends and relatives in Grand Rapids and the country immediately surrounding that city.

John Herring, of Coffeyville, Kas., and E. H. Herring and family, of Spokane, Wash., father and brother respectively of Conductor J. P. Herring, have returned to their homes after a week's visit in this city.

Machinist Allen Hamilton resumed work at the Pittsburg shops this morning after an absence of several days on account of the meeting of the school trustees at Indianapolis, which he attended. Mr. Hamilton was signally honored for a new member of the trustees' association, being elected vice president and placed upon the committee of application. Notice of the meeting is made elsewhere.

Boiler Foreman B. F. Sarver, of the Pittsburg, has gone to New Castle on business for the company which will keep him in that city two or three days.

D. B. Vreeland, of Detroit, is the guest of his brother, Frank Vreeland, a Nickel Plate yard conductor. The visitor is a locomotive engineer and was formerly employed on the Nickel Plate.

Shipments of coal and coke over the Chesapeake and Ohio during the last three months aggregated only 272,343 short tons, as compared with 1,481,796 tons in the corresponding period last year.

I. B. Davis, traveling freight agent for the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, died very suddenly at Toledo Wednesday of acute pneumonia. He was for years connected with the Toledo, St. Louis and Western.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frane have gone to Indianapolis to visit her relatives for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kahler will go to Chicago tomorrow to spend Sunday with friends. Both gentlemen are blacksmiths and are employed in the Pittsburg shops.

G. J. DeVilbiss, of Moberly, Mo., is visiting friends and relatives in the city. He is now general foreman of the Wabash shops of the western division. He formerly worked in the company's shops in this city.

The Lake Erie and Western has received this week two battleship type of locomotives transferred from the Lake Shore, and will soon receive several more, the track now being in condition to use heavier locomotives.

The Sentinel owes Miss Flora Archibald and Cyril ZurMuhlen an apology. In its item concerning the dance at Princess rink, given by the Wabash shopmen, this paper got these names mixed in an aggravating manner. Miss Archibald and Mr. ZurMuhlen were seconds to the leaders in the grand march at that ball and the manner in which they performed their parts entitles them to praise and thanks from the participants in the grand march.

W. Y. Cherry, foreman of the lathe department of the Pittsburg machine shop, returned from Ashley last night, bringing word that his mother, Mrs. W. H. Cherry, who was very sick, had passed the critical stage of the disease and was improving. Mr. Cherry's grandmother, Mrs. Julia Hewes, is lying at the point of death at her home in this city.

E. H. Harriman has written John McNeillan, president of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, in charge of the striking boilermakers of the Union Pacific system, assuring him that no more Southern Pacific locomotives will be sent the Union Pacific as long as the strike on that road lasts.

The second boiler built at the Bass works for the Pennsylvania company on an order for four, has been completed and is now awaiting a car to take it to the new round house, where it is to be installed. A boiler was sent out there early in the week, and the one now ready to go there completes the plant at that place. The other two boilers will be added to the battery in the power plant on Lafayette street.

Quider left today for Chanute, Kan., where he will be united in marriage to Miss Grace Titus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Titus, of this city, who is now the guest of friends in the Kansas city. The bride's father is a well known railroad engineer, while Mr. Quider is a conductor on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad.

The marriage of Frank Gruber and Sophie, the charming daughter of Special License Officer Tremmel, was celebrated last night at the home of the bride's father. The guests were many, numbering perhaps several hundred—far in excess of the capacity of Mr. Tremmel's home, but there was none the less of enjoyment for all of that. Mayor Berghoff and many other city officers were present. The groom is recently from Germany, having arrived in this country about eight months ago.

A NEGRO LYNCHED

SULLIVAN COUNTY MOB ROPES JAMES DILLARD.

HAD ASSAULTED TWO WOMEN

FIEND IDENTIFIED BY HIS WHITE VICTIMS.

MOB OVERPOWERS OFFICERS

GOVERNOR ORDERED TROOPS BUT TOO LATE

Sullivan, Ind., Nov. 21.—James Moore, alias Dillard, a negro charged with assaulting the wives of two eminently respectable farmers living in this section of the state, was hanged to a telegraph pole within a mile of the home of one of the victims late yesterday afternoon by an armed lynching party of upwards of 600 men.

The prisoner was captured at Robinson, Ill., Wednesday and brought here yesterday. Sheriff Dudley and his deputies attempted to steal their way into the city by a secret route. They took every possible precaution, but when they approached the jail the crowd of infuriated farmers and their friends jumped from their hiding places and took possession of the terrified black man.

A spirited but brief fight ensued before this was accomplished, in which many blows were struck and some of the lynchers received serious injuries. Moore was badly beaten with the butt ends of revolvers in the hands of members of the attacking party.

NEGRO IS IDENTIFIED.

Moore was literally dragged through the thoroughfares of the city until the main street was reached. There he was thrown into a wagon with the mob howling and hooting in its wake. The march was taken up to the home of Mrs. Mary Davis, of Sullivan county, where Moore was positively identified by the woman as her assailant. It was with difficulty at that time that some of the leaders of the mob were able to restrain their followers from disposing of the man's life upon the site of the Davis farm.

It was decided, however, to take the culprit to the farmhouse of Mrs. John Lemon, of Knox county, ten miles from this city. The lynching party in the meantime had swelled to enormous proportions, and was rapidly receiving recruits. The negro was met with a second positive identification at the hands of Mrs. Lemon, whereupon the crowd started to retrace its steps to Sullivan.

SHOT FULL OF HOLES.

When the journey had progressed to a point about one mile east of the Lemon farm a rope was thrown over the arm of a telegraph pole, and the trembling object of the wrath of his captors was quickly jerked into the air. The body was made a target for rifles, shotguns and revolvers in the hands of the lynchers, and when torn and riddled with lead was left in its ghastly form to swing high in the air until cut down by the properly constituted law officers.

Meanwhile Governor Durbin, at the state capitol in Indianapolis, had been apprised of the fact that the prisoner had been forcibly taken from the custody of Sheriff Dudley. The governor sent an order immediately to the sheriff to swear in special deputies or take such other possible steps as would insure the safety of the negro.

The reports received in reply, as sent out from this city by the sheriff, was to the effect that he was powerless to cope with the mob, which was bent upon the destruction of the negro, and that the public feeling was running at such a high pitch because of the character of the crime committed that he was unable to secure special deputies for service in the premises.

MILITIA WAS TOO LATE.

Upon the receipt of this information Governor Durbin replied that he would order out the first company of state militia available for duty in Sullivan county. However, the lynching party had done its work before it was possible for state troops to reach here. The crowd after the consummation of its vengeance against the Kentucky negro quickly and quietly dispersed, seemingly satisfied with the form of summary justice which they visited upon him in violation of the laws of the commonwealth.

Moore committed his offenses last Tuesday, making his escape across the Indiana-Illinois state line to the town of Robinson. When report of the outrages reached the officers of this city they telephoned and telegraphed descriptions of the fugitive to near-by points, requesting that strenuous efforts be made for his apprehension. The authorities of Robinson picked Moore up on the streets. He was unable to give a clear account of himself and his wanderings, and likewise bore a striking resemblance to the missing man wanted in this city.

GOVERNOR DURBIN NOTIFIED.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—At 6 o'clock last evening Governor Durbin was notified by long-distance telephone from Sullivan that a mob at that place had taken James Moore, who was charged with assaulting Mrs. Davis, of Sullivan county, and Mrs. Lemon, of Knox county, from Sheriff Dudley by overpowering him and his deputies, and would lynch the negro if he were identified by his victims.

The governor immediately ordered company A of the national guard at Vincennes to pursue the mob and rescue the negro, at that time supposed to be in the neighborhood of Carlisle. The governor said he would spare no trouble or expense to bring the lynchers to justice.

BARRETT LAW DECISION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21.—The appellate court yesterday held in the case of the America Bond company trustees vs. Allie Blakely, that a lot owner in Indianapolis that failed to pay one installment under the Barrett law, when due in November, but paid it the following January, before any action had begun, can not successfully defend against an action to foreclose the lien for the entire amount of the assessment.

The decision is important to all persons that have taken the Barrett law, for a single delinquency creates a liability that the lien for the entire amount of the assessment may be foreclosed.

The Marion superior court is reversed. About $500 is involved in this case. The statute which the court sustains reads:

"Failure to pay any installment of principal or interest when the same is due, shall bring all installments of principal yet unpaid forthwith due and payable."

FILIPINOS FORM NEW PARTY.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The "democratic party" is the latest addition to the political organizations in the Philippines, according to advices received by the war department. Prominent Filipinos have identified themselves with the party, among them General Lukban, who organized and led the insurgents in the island of Samar and who was in command of the insurgents at the time of the Balangiga massacre.

The new party will demand modification of the present administration in the Philippines so as to afford a greater degree of self-government, the immediate establishment of two legislative chambers, both chambers to be elected in accordance with suffrage laws as they obtain in the United States, and that the acts passed by the two chambers shall become laws without further action.

It is said General Lukban may establish a newspaper to advocate the principles of the new party.

SPANISH SOLONS RIOT.

Madrid, Nov. 21.—The uproar in the chamber of deputies yesterday which was caused by the attack of Senor Romero Robledo on Premier Sagasta continued throughout the evening and the premier withdrew from the chamber. The president of the house closed the sitting amid protests from the members of the opposition and cries of "there is no government." The trouble grew out of a speech by Premier Sagasta in which he expressed surprise at the interpretation which had been given to the recent ministerial crisis. Senor Romero Robledo reproached the premier with his political antecedents. He declared that Senor Sagasta was not the leader of a party, but the favorite of the king, a statement which occasioned an angry debate.

MANY GARMENTS GIVEN.

The exhibition of garments donated for charity, which was held yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the court house, was not as largely attended as expected, but nevertheless the interest this year was greater than ever before, and the ladies of the Needlework guild, under whose auspices the exhibit took place, feel greatly encouraged. A total of 1,595 articles were donated, divided as follows: For men, 68 garments; for women, 214; for boys, 333; for girls, 443; for infants, 162; miscellanous, 375. The distribution will be as follows: St. Joseph's hospital, 84, Hope hospital, 84; Reformed orphans' home, 64; Allen county orphans' home, 305; children's home, 114; home for emergencies, 27; Lakeside Aid society, 31; Young Women's Christian association, 65; Visiting Nurse league, 363; Relief union, 340; needy children in public schools, 118.

THIRTY MEN DROWNED.

Vienna, Nov. 21.—A Danube steamer crowded with workmen sank off Orsova, a frontier town of Servia, on an island in the Danube, yesterday evening. Thirty of those who were on board were drowned. Owing to the darkness the boats from the shore were only able to rescue five persons.

Decatur Journal: Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, of Fort Wayne, returned to that city today after transacting business in the city.

HIGH DIVER CLYDE IN TOWN

HIS ACT WAS BIG FEATURE OF RECENT CARNIVAL.

Specialty Artist in the City to Visit Friends and Enjoy a Brief Rest.

George B. Clyde, the intrepid acrobat who did the sensational back somersault dive from a height of 104 feet into a tank of water during the Gaskill-Mundy carnival a few months ago, is in the city. Closing his season at Beaumont, Texas, Mr. Clyde returned to Fort Wayne for the double purpose of calling upon friends and enjoying a brief rest.

Mr. Clyde's home is at Akron, Ohio, and twice daily during the amusement season for the past four years he has been doing his perilous dive. To most men the contemplation of such a performance is sufficient to produce a distinct shudder, but to Mr. Clyde it is a very ordinary affair. He says that he has frequently been bruised up somewhat, and has had a number of ribs broken, but has never been so badly injured as to necessitate the cancellation of an engagement. Next season he hopes to increase the height of his dive to 125 or 130 feet, and says there is no reason why he should not do so.

Since his arrival in Fort Wayne Mr. Clyde has received a number of telegrams offering him engagements at figures of $150 per week and upward. He says he is in no hurry to accept them, however, as he desires to rest up a bit before resuming the act. By occupation he is a sign writer and during the past few days has been doing some fancy stunts in that line for W. T. Buckles. He will remain in Fort Wayne a week or more.

SENATOR ULREY TALKS.

(Indianapolis Sentinel.)

Senator Lew V. Ulrey, of Fort Wayne, who will represent Allen county in the senate for the next four years, was at the Grand yesterday. Senator Ulrey was passing through the city on a business trip and stopped long enough to see about engaging his rooms at the Grand to be used during the session of the legislature and to see that the seat he chose early in the year is kept for him.

Senator Ulrey will probably have few, if any, bills to offer to the coming legislature. Said he: "I do not know of any measures I will have to introduce. As a member I will want to learn the ropes before I try anything. It seems to me, too, that as a new man, I can do more good by keeping my eyes open to stop vicious legislation than by presenting a lot of new bills. It seems to me that we are legislated to death already, and I believe the coming legislature can make a good record for itself by using the best judgment in the action it takes on all bills presented and not by trying to see just how many laws can be passed without any regard for their usefulness. For one I intend to keep the record of the legislature clean in this regard.

KETTRING-HARTMAN.

Rev. C. Gross, of Emanuel Lutheran church, united in marriage Miss Marie Hartman and Nathaniel Kettring at his residence at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Miss Ida Smaltz and Peter Waters were the attendants. The bride's dress was of cream colored French batiste and she carried chrysanthemums. Her maid wore a mode taffeta silk dress and carried pink roses. After the ceremony a wedding supper was partaken of at the home of the bride's brother, on Madison street. Mr. and Mrs. Kettring have begun housekeeping at 1113 Maumee avenue. The groom is foreman in the Wayne Biscuit company.

GROWING INTEREST SHOWN.

The meetings at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ, which are being conducted by Rev. Z. A. Harris, assisted by Prof. Millard, the singing evangelist, have grown rapidly in interest during the past week. On Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 4 o'clock there will be special services for children and young people and the admittance will be free, but by ticket. There will be a half hour's song service and the songs will be illustrated. The meetings will continue throughout next week and the subjects will be: Sunday morning, "God's Glory;" evening, "The Five Steps in Becoming a Christian;" Monday night, "The Desire of All Nations;" Tuesday night, "The Glorious Gospel;" Wednesday night, "Escape for Thy Life;" Thursday night, "The Holy Spirit;" Friday night, "The Calls of God;" Saturday, "Why Halt Ye."

MARCHANT—HITE.

Miss Caroline Hite, of Nine Mile, and David Marchant, of this city, were married yesterday by Rev. J. H. Evans, of Bethel Evangelical church. The wedding took place at 12:30 at the home of the groom's parents, 1905 Hanna street, in the presence of a number of friends. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. The bride is a daughter of a farmer living at Nine Mile and Mr. Marchant is a machinist at the Western Gas Construction company. Mr. and Mrs. Marchant will be at home after November 30 at 2207 Hanna street.

CARRIE BERATES THE RICH

MRS. NATION CAUSES SCENE AT HORSE SHOW.

Kansas Smasher Harangues Society Folk in New York for Their Lavish Dressing.

New York, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Carrie Nation created a sensation at the horse show yesterday. She harangued the great gathering on the evils of overdress, attempted to break a bottle of champagne, and finally was ejected from the building by the police.

Mrs. Nation entered the garden quietly and took a seat in the tier. She had been there only a few minutes when her gaze rested on the box where some members of the Vanderbilt family were sitting. She studied her program and then descended to the promenade. Stationing herself in front of the Vanderbilt box she delivered a tirade on overdress. In the box were seated Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Reginald Vanderbilt and Miss Nicholson. Alfred G. Vanderbilt was leaning against the rail of the promenade, and did not see Mrs. Nation approach.

OCCUPANTS EMBARRASSED.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourselves," the woman screamed at them. "You ought to be ashamed to wear such disgraceful clothes. Take them off, take them off at once and attire yourselves more modestly."

Alfred G. Vanderbilt hastily left his position at the rail and came over to where Mrs. Nation was standing and wiping her forehead with a handkerchief. He whispered something in her ear and pushed her away.

The outburst of the woman attracted a great crowd of people, and the occupants of the Vanderbilt box were evidently very much embarrassed.

SEIZES CHAMPAGNE BOTTLE.

Mrs. Nation then turned her attention to other boxes. Finally she started for the cafe, where she bore down on a party of men who were drinking wine. Mrs. Nation seized the bottle, and, glaring at the men, shouted: "Young men, don't drink such filthy stuff! You are going straight to hell. Where is the man who sells this stuff? Show him to me and I will tell him what I think of him!"

Mrs. Nation's request was speedily granted by the sudden appearance of M. Ville Piqué, the caterer at the garden.

"Get out of this horrible business," she shouted at him, "you are going to hell and ruining the bodies and souls of men! You are dragging them down with you. Shame on you, shame on you!"

The Frenchman, however, ran to Mrs. Nation and rescued the bottle which she repeatedly brandished in the air to emphasize her remarks. Then he pushed her out of the door. Here the police took hold of the Kansas reformer and forced her out of the building.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Rose Barnhart, of Huntington, is entertaining in the city.

Miss Reada Lamley is visiting Mrs. Edward Musliner in Jackson, Mich.

Garfield Garrett, of Leo, who has been visiting in the city, has gone to Seattle, Wash., to practice law.

MR. AND MRS. WEST CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING.

Their Children Gather at the Old Home and Participate in the Festivities.

Last evening at 1252 St. Joe boulevard, a happy little group commemorated an event that occurred in Forest, Ohio, November 20, 1877, just twenty-five years ago. On that date and in that city Allen T. West and Miss Ivy L. Stansell took the vows which made them husband and wife and began a domesticity that grew dearer with each passing year. This happy couple has been blessed with four children. Mrs. R. D. Smith, the oldest, resides at Holgate, where her husband is the editor of the Holgate Review; Joseph and the Misses Evalyn and Ruth West reside in this city, the two latter at the parental home. There is also one granddaughter, Josephine Smith, a bright little tot who is the pride of her grandpa and whose portrait adorns the lapel of his vest. These daughters, the son, the daughter-in-law, the son-in-law and little Josephine, together with the heads of the family, composed the group which surrounded the heavily laden, inviting table at the 6 o'clock dinner, gotten up by Mrs. West in honor of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. West have resided in Fort Wayne for a number of years and enjoy a wide acquaintance and the esteem of all. Mr. West has spent a good portion of his life in railway work. In 1871 he became a messenger and a student in the Pittsburg telegraph offices in Forest and soon arose to the position of operator. In 1873 he went to the state of Iowa and for two years was employed as a telegrapher by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy company. Then he returned to his native state and for a few months was employed by the Big Four. He then returned to the Pittsburg and has since been continuously in the employ of that company. At present Mr. West is clerk to Chief Dispatcher J. G. Jennings.

ALLEN T. WEST.

CRUISER CINCINNATI WINS RUN TO SAN JUAN.

Battleship Alabama Shows Astonishing Speed and is a Close Second at Finish.

New York, Nov. 21.—Carrying a great white bone in her teeth and with phosphorescent spray dashing high upon her sharp bows, the cruiser Cincinnati forged abreast of Culebra light at midnight last night, a winner in the greatest ocean race of warships ever run on the north Atlantic seaboard, says a Herald dispatch from San Juan, Porto Rico.

Barely two miles astern of the cruiser flashed the white searchlight of the great battleship Alabama. She had distanced all her rivals of the heavyweight class and had shown her quality by putting up a hammer and tongs struggle all the way from Hampton Roads, Va., with the fleet-footed criser.

One by one she left behind the little gunboat Machias, the Indiana, of Santiago fame; the new battleship Kearsarge, her own particular rival, and last of all the plucky Massachusetts, sister ship of the Indiana.

That the comparatively old Massachusetts was a stronger competitor than the Kearsarge is one of the surprises of the race.

That the Alabama came in so close a second to the fast commerce destroyer Cincinnati, even though the cruiser had been handicapped thirty-five miles at the start, is a superb performance for a first-class battleship heavily armed.

This is the first time in its history that the ships of the north Atlantic squadron have engaged in such a long distance speed contest in the open sea.

As a component part of the great fleet of warships now assembling for the winter naval maneuvers under command of Admiral Dewey, the North Atlantic squadron was ordered, after assembling at Hampton Roads, to proceed to the naval rendezvous off Culebra light, the beacon that gleams from the pinnacle of a rocky little island off San Juan point, Porto Rico.

Here was a superb opportunity to test the actual speed of the ships of the fleet in competition and under thoroughly practical conditions.

Five of the ships lined up for the start at noon Saturday—the Alabama, the Kearsarge, the Massachusetts, the Indiana and the Machias, baby of the fleet. The last named is a gun boat only 190 feet long and of 1,000 tons displacement. The other four are battleships.

The Massachusetts and the Indiana are sister vessels, launched in 1893, and with the Oregon, not entered in this contest, they mark the earlier type of first-class battleships of the new navy. The Kearsarge and the Alabama represented later types of sea fighters.

Thirty-two miles behind the line of battleships as they passed the Virginia capes came the protected cruiser Cincinnati. By reason of her speedier and lighter type this was regarded as a fair handicap for the greyhound of the fleet, which to do her destined work, should easily outclass them all in cruising qualities.

CHOLERA IS DECREASING.

Washington, Nov. 21.—A cablegram has been received from the Philippine commission stating that the number of cases of cholera had gone down to five a day instead of thirty-four a day a week ago. The message says that the commission feels much relieved and it is believed that the Mariquina watershed, which furnishes the water supply for Manila, will not be contaminated. Up to a short time ago grave fears were entertained that cholera might be introduced in the Mariquina region, although great precautions have been taken to prevent such a result.

EXPLORER IS ICE-BOUND.

London, Nov. 21.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg today announces that Baron Toll, who is exploring the Siberian coast line, has been cut off from the coast by early winter ice in New Siberia. No anxiety, however, is felt for his safety, as his expedition is well equipped and will reach the mainland as soon as the ice is strong enough.

BIDS FAREWELL TO CZAR.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—Ambassador Tower, who has been transferred from St. Petersburg to Berlin, had his farewell audience with the czar at Livadia on Wednesday. He afterwards lunched with his majesty and the czarina.

APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE IN GUATEMALA.

VICTIMS OF THE VOLCANO

LATER DETAILS SHOW DEATH OF 5,000 PERSONS.

PROPERTY LOSS ENORMOUS

TOWN OF QUEZALTENANGO IS A MASS OF RUINS.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—W. J. Campbell, who has just arrived here from Guatemala, brings additional details of the damage caused by the recent volcanic disturbance. In an interview Mr. Campbell said:

"There is no clear idea yet of the loss of life resulting from the volcano's eruption, but from what I could gather before leaving the country I believe that 5,000 natives have been killed.

"Some of the coffee fincas that have been nearly ruined were worth more than $1,000,000. The town of Quezaltenango is practically ruined for the houses are cracked and broken down, the people are moving out and the neighborhood is covered with sand and ashes."

NEAR DEATH IN QUICKSANDS

AGED MEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE NEAR ELKHART.

John Mather, 82, Is Rescued After Sinking to His Chin in Nature's Death-Trap.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 21.—John Mather, 82 years of age, and John Manchester, himself past middle age, well known Elkhart citizens, had a narrow escape from a horrible death yesterday while exploring the Hatch farm seven miles south of this city.

The men stepped into quicksand, and in a moment Mather, who was in advance, sank to the depth of his chin in the treacherous death-dealing trap of nature.

Manchester was drawn into the sand half his length and only saved himself by clutching a large tuft of fibrous grass. He reached for his companion, who was barely able to keep his head above the surface, and could just touch his coat collar.

By an unusual display of strength he managed to draw himself nearer and secured a good grip on Mr. Mather. He then drew the latter's head clear of the sand. Mather was completely exhausted with his struggling and cries for help.

After what seemed to the men an age, Manchester had worked and tugged until Mather was out of the hole. The men were then obliged to walk more than a mile before reaching their carriage and because of Mather's weakened condition, were an hour in covering that distance.

WANT TO KEEP JUDGE BAKER.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Washington states that communications have been received at the department of justice from members of the Indiana Bar association, asking that Judge John H. Baker's resignation as federal district judge be not accepted.

Merrill Moores, secretary of the state association, said that he had not heard of any communication being sent by any of the members, so he did not know who signed it. The names were not made public in Washington. Mr. Moores said no official communication had been sent by the association.

The dispatch adds that the communication will be referred to President Roosevelt on his return from the south.

SEES BLOW AIMED AT ITALY.

Rome, Nov. 21.—The Tribune, commenting on the proposed new law of the United States to stop the immigration of illiterates, says this measure is a new cruel offense to Italy.

The journal urges the government to make a protest to the United States government, inasmuch as the proposed measure will strike especially at Italy, whose emigration comprises 50 per cent. of the illiterates.

"The government," it concludes, "must obtain a veto on the bill from President Roosevelt, so that the measure may at least be postponed until the Italian emigrants are able to take to the United States not only the strength of their arms, but the cultivation of their minds."

GAS WELLS MAY BE PLUGGED

APPELLATE COURT RULES ON IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Lease Cannot Be Canceled Where a Producing Well Is Stopped to Get Oil.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—The decision of the appellate court yesterday, construing a lease of land to develop gas and oil, is interesting, in view of the oil interests in the Indiana gas belt. The court holds that the contract is not forfeited because the company plugged a good gas well and refused to operate it.

Many land owners, it is said, have sought to cancel leases for failure to develop gas in order that they may be free to enjoy larger profits in any oil under their lands.

The court affirmed the Blackford circuit court, which ruled against canceling a contract between R. R. and John A. Gadbury and the Ohio and Indiana Consolidated Natural and Illuminating Gas company, by which the latter was to have the right to drill for gas and oil on the Gadbury land, the company to pay the land owners $100 a year for the product of each gas well while the gas was used off the premises, and one-sixth of all oil produced.

The complaint alleged that the company drilled a gas well and found a large quantity of gas, but closed the well and refused to transport the gas. The land owners contended that the lease was forfeited by the failure to perform the "implied covenant" to operate. The court construes the contract strictly and takes no stock in the "implied covenant" to operate. Fraud in making the contract was not alleged. Judge Henley wrote the opinion.

Foot Ball Games.

Tomorrow's game with Huntington is the high school's last scheduled game of the season and it promises to be the hardest game the high school shall have had this season. The Lime City will be represented by an aggressive eleven and they are coming with the determination of winning. The game will be called at 2:30.

The Wolff team will play in Auburn tomorrow and Fort Wayne will be represented by as strong an aggregation as Captain Miller can get together. Auburn will have a heavier team than the one that played here last Saturday, and will be strengthened by two players from this city.

The Pennsylvania freight house team is negotiating with the Huntington Business College team for a game in that city on Thanksgiving day.

Whether or not the Wolff team will play the All Stars or the Huntington city team here on Thanksgiving day has not yet been definitely decided. Negotiations were opened with the Huntington team some time before the challenge was received from the All Stars and Manager Shultz will be obliged to give the Lime City team first choice.

The game between Yale and Harvard at New Haven tomorrow afternoon will decide the championship of the eastern division. Yale rules favorite in the betting and from a distance it looks as though the blue will be victorious.

Tomorrow will mark the close of the foot ball season in the east, only two or three of the big colleges having games scheduled for Thanksgiving.

The game between Missouri and Iowa at Iowa City yesterday resulted in a victory for the southerners by a score of 6 to 0.

Following are the big games scheduled for tomorrow:

Michigan vs. Oberlin at Ann Arbor.

Northwestern vs. Illinois at Chicago.

Yale vs. Harvard at New Haven.

Cornell vs. Vermont at Ithaca.

Brown vs. Dartmouth at Hanover.

Wesleyan vs. Hanover at Middletown.

Carlisle vs. Virginia at Norfolk.

Nebraska vs. Creighton at Omaha.

Drake vs. Des Moines at Des Moines.

LOCAL LINES.

Mrs. Charles A. Asterlin is visiting her parents at Newcomerstown, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Ninde and children sail December 6th for Hanover, Germany, for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Riedmiller have begun housekeeping at 528 East Wayne street, where they are at home to friends.

Mrs. John A. Thieme, of Taylor street, was pleasantly surprised by a large company of friends Wednesday evening in celebration of her birthday anniversary. The party was arranged by Miss Emma Thieme and the surprise was complete.

Fay Randall has issued invitations for a reception and dance to be given in the Wayne club Friday evening, Nov. 28th, in honor of the young ladies of a house party to be entertained by Mrs. Julia Fay Randall next week. The house party will consist of Miss Ruth Fiske, of Lincoln, Ill.; Miss Virginia Mosby, of Oxford, Miss.; Miss Lisle Stewart, of Wankau, Ill.; Miss Zoe Benton, of Washington; Miss Julia Drayer, of Hartford City; Miss Ruby Runyan, of Warsaw, and Miss Ednah Randall, of Avilla.

The supper given by the men of Trinity Episcopal church last evening was a pronounced success in every respect and the appointments reflected much credit to the committee in charge. The tables were arranged to accommodate 100 guests at a sitting and chrysanthemums, carnations and ferns were used in decoration. The gentlemen who waited on the tables were attired in white duck suits and they fulfilled their duties as though they had been accustomed to them all their lives. The corps of waiters consisted of Edward White, Larry Randall, Dallas F. Green, C. D. Tillo, James H. Fry, H. G. Keegan, R. H. Carnahan, Robert Learmonth, Ronald Dawson, Charles Puddy, Dr. W. W. IN NORTHERN INDIANA

Smallpox at Waterloo is abating.

The attempt to find oil at Wakarusa, Elkhart county, has failed.

John Monroe, 78 years of age, died suddenly at Bluffton. He was stricken by paralysis.

J. J. Gillette, who has lived at Lagrange 52 years, will write a history of that county.

The Noble county Teachers' association will meet in Ligonier Friday and Saturday of next week.

The Waterloo town board has tabled the petition of the Garrett, Auburn and Northern electric line for an extension of one year in its franchise.

Roy Dudley, of Laporte, 34 years of age, choked to death upon a chew of tobacco which lodged in his windpipe. He died before medical aid could be called.

Kendallville closed its schools for a day this week to fumigate the buildings, after it had been discovered that smallpox existed in the family of a pupil.

The Hartford City council has threatened to reduce the salary of the city marshal or relieve him from his position entirely unless he enforces the Sunday closing ordinance.

Garrett has bounded into prominence from the fact that a carload of anthracite coal was received there a few days ago, the first to reach northern Indiana since the strike began.

Incendiaries fired two barns at Huntington Thursday morning and a horse and a cow perished in one of the buildings. John D. Metzler and Orlando Bonewitz were the owners of the buildings.

J. W. Smith bought a farm near Bluffton and shipped his household goods from Pulaski county to that place. While sleeping in the freight car to protect the goods he was robbed of $120.

Clarence Whitmeyer, age seventeen, of Elkhart, needed a few dollars. He solicited goods for a church rummage sale, but sold them at reduced prices. When arrested he said he did it to help the poor.

Harry Cutler and Harvey Mowrey were arrested by a Wabash detective at Wolcottville, charged with blowing the safe at the Sanders hardware store and also stealing liquors from the Wabash freight house. It is said the boys have confessed.

Strauss Bros., a Ligonier real estate firm, has just purchased 2,000 acres of improved land in Jefferson township, Kosciusko county, paying $100,000 for it. The transaction is said to be the largest real estate deal made in northern Indiana in twenty-five years.

Nelson Gardner, of Columbia City, convicted of criminal assault, will go to the Michigan City penitentiary for a term of from one to twenty-one years. His victim was Gertrude Peacock, a 15 year old girl, who made her home in the Gardner family, and the testimony revealed a startling condition of depravity.

John B. Yeager, formerly of Hartford City, has been released from jail at Torreon, Mexico, where he had been confined more than a year. Yeager was an engineer upon a Mexican railroad, and was charged with responsibility for the death of his fireman, who met death beneath the engine. The Mexican courts have finally absolved him from all blame or responsibility.

The graves of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hanna, at Wabash, were opened Thursday and the remains transferred to Falls cemetery. Colonel Hanna was the founder of Wabash and donated the land where he and his wife were buried, on condition that it be used as a cemetery forever. It had been abandoned, however, the two graves being the last ones there, and the land will now revert to the Hanna heirs.

WHEN BOYS WERE MEN

CHAPTER I.

JACKET AND SPUR.

A FEW years ago, when war was the most active of American industries and the supply of men and material was never equal to the demand, my friend, Charley Brainard, and I, with a lot of other Summerton boys, joined a militia regiment which had been hastily called to the front. Not one of us was killed, and at the end of our three months' term of service the stupidest of us knew more about military life and duty than any of our officers when we first took the field, so several of us thought it our duty to re-enter the army and help save the nation.

We knew exactly how to do it; we knew almost everything in those days, for the youngest of us was fully 18 years of age, and one was almost 20. On being mustered out of the militia service we were to enlist in the Thirty-eighth cavalry, a regiment then being formed about a veteran battalion of troopers near whom we had camped and whom we greatly admired. No more trampling for us, with a musket on one shoulder and a knapsack on both, while the nation was willing to provide horses for such of its defenders as knew how to ride!

Immediately after enlisting we were to go to recruiting. The government was begging for men and, with state and local authorities, was offering large cash bounties by way of persuasion. We would do all we could to help the government to increase the army; we would also do all we could for ourselves while recruiting, for at that time and during the remainder of the civil war the only way to become a commissioned officer in a new regiment was to persuade some men to enlist and then see carefully to it that they were mustered into the service. Although there was no law defining this method, there was a general understanding which was fairly lived up to by the authorities. A man who could "raise" 50 recruits might feel assured of a captain's commission, 30 would secure a first lieutenancy and 20 a second lieutenancy. Any one who could persuade half a dozen men to enlist could become a sergeant, a position not to be despised in a fighting regiment could the sergeant himself succeed in not being shot, for after a regiment got to fighting the officers who were killed or otherwise disposed of were replaced by deserving noncommissioned officers.

I was so sure of becoming a lieutenant that I had myself measured for an officer's uniform before I ceased to be a private in the Ninety-ninth militia. Had not 27 members of our company promised to enlist under me if I would enter the Thirty-eighth cavalry? They did it with their eyes open, for all of them had seen what there was of the Thirty-eighth and they admired it as much as I. Their willingness to serve under me did not imply that they regarded me as a military genius or a born leader of men. It meant only that my father's little farm, at the edge of our town, contained the largest assortment of fruit trees in all Summerton, that I had never said "No" to any acquaintance who longed for apples, pears, cherries or plums, and that small boys have large memories. Besides, my cousin May, who had always lived with us, was greatly admired by all the boys whom I knew, and it had long been the fashion to be obliging to me because I was the cousin of so nice a girl.

I was not the only Summerton aspirant to a commission. My special friend, Charley Brainard, was willing to be sergeant, or even corporal, under me, but there was Phil Hamilton, a First regiment (militia) man, who had left his old regiment only because he had to study in Europe for two years, and he joined the Summerton company of the Ninety-ninth militia merely because his old regiment had not chanced to be called out, and he wanted to see something of field service. Phil was much the richest young man in town. He was also the handsomest, which really is a great deal to say to any one who chances to know Summerton. His mustache was large enough for a major general. He owned at least 20 walking sticks and twice as many scarfpins, and all the girls were said to be dying for him.

Then there was Cloyne, confidential clerk of the lumber company. He, too, was a handsome fellow, and he had been a cavalry soldier in the British army. He wanted to raise recruits and get a commission. Indeed, both he and Hamilton had seen the prospective colonel of the Thirty-eighth and had so greatly impressed that gentleman as to elicit the statement that he would be greatly disappointed if they did not become officers of his and perhaps succeed him should the fortunes of war carry him out of the service.

So we three formed an amicable partnership to raise a company, of which Hamilton was to be captain, Cloyne first lieutenant and I the second lieutenant.

"To show the other boys that we are dead in earnest," said Hamilton, "there being a lot of trickery and underhand work in the recruiting business, let us all enlist as private soldiers in the Thirty-eighth before we begin business, so our men may feel sure that we are in the service to stay. There is quite a lot of money offered in the form of bounties to recruits. It amounts to several hundred dollars per man. Instead of pocketing it, let us divide it among the men who enlist with us. That ought to give us some advantage over other recruiting officers."

We agreed to follow Phil's advice. Brainard offered to use his bounty in the same way, although he did not expect to be an officer. He wanted to become a minister after the war ended, and he said he didn't wish to expose himself to any temptation that might alienate him from his purpose.

We four enlisted together at the regiment's recruiting headquarters in

"Don't be dismal, Jack."

New York, but Brainard, who hurried back home to see his sick mother, did not reach the medical examiner as soon as we. After Hamilton, Cloyne and I had been accepted and sworn into service we spent a pleasant hour or two at the regiment's recruiting headquarters chatting with the officer in charge, who was to be major of one of the regiment's two new battalions. In the course of time Brainard crept in, looking so dismal that I at once asked him whether his mother was much worse.

"That isn't the trouble," said he. "The surgeon has rejected me. He says I'm under the regulation height and too slight for service anyway."

Suddenly the whole world looked dark to me. Brainard was my dearest friend, and my cousin May was very fond of him, although Phil Hamilton—handsome, rich, stylish Phil—was one of her most devoted admirers. The idea of going to the war again, and for three years, without Brainard being where I could see him every day was too dreadful to be thought of. My feelings must have got into my face, for Brainard put on a ghost of a smile and said:

"Don't be dismal, Jack, for now you'll have the chance to do all the fighting for both of us."

This ought to have comforted my patriotic soul, but it didn't. I was so disloyal to my new vows as to declare that if Brainard was not allowed to enter the Thirty-eighth I wouldn't go either. I would do all in my power to raise men to defend the Union, but afterward I would run away, and Brainard and I would go to some other state and enlist together, where Charley's smallness of stature might not be against him.

But this resolution did not cheer Brainard any, and he felt worse an hour later when the three of us who had passed the mustering officer were looking at one another in new cavalry uniforms, while he was in civilian's dress. He felt still worse when we all went back to Summerton and took supper together at our house, for my cousin May noticed him scarcely at all, but was very agreeable to Hamilton.

The next day, by special permission of the major, Hamilton, Cloyne and I opened a recruiting office at Summerton. Brainard attached himself to us as a sort of civilian aid. He said if he wasn't to be a soldier and fight there was the more reason why he should try to persuade other men to enlist. I immediately notified my 27 men that the roll was ready for them to sign. Hamilton and Cloyne had previously looked at my list and assured me that they would not accept any of these men without specially crediting them to me.

But somehow none of them made haste to sign. Some had heard that larger bounties were being offered in other towns or states, so they were going to look about carefully and do the best they could for themselves; others had themselves seen the cavalry major and obtained promises of commissions if they would raise men; still others had heard that so many men were enlisting from day to day that wages for work at home were going to be much better. Several had spent their final pay from the Ninety-ninth for drink and been picked up, enlisted and mustered for other regiments before they became sober.

Well, to make a long story short, not one of the 27 did I ever secure for the cavalry. Hamilton tried to comfort me by crediting me with Cruse and Whyde, two of our militia comrades who declared they would not have re-enlisted had it not been for me; but, as Cruse's parents refused to sign the certificate necessary in the case of minors who enlisted, Cruse was released from his promise. Whyde went swimming one day in water too deep for him and was buried three days later with such military honors as Summerton could extemporize.

For the week after my re-enlistment my heart was as heavy as if it had been filled with bullets. No recruits; no chance of a commission; worse than all, no prospect of having Brainard with me during the three years to come. I was too downhearted to notice that Hamilton and Cloyne were not in their usual spirits, but one day, as the three of us sat in the vacant store in which we had our recruiting office and stared gloomily at the roll which was still blank except for our own names, Brainard came in, looked at us and said abruptly:

"If you fellows don't get your spirits up in some way, you'll never find the government any soldiers, and you won't be fit to be soldiers yourselves."

The looks that were fixed upon him quickly by three pairs of angry eyes ought to have scorched him and made him shrivel. But they didn't, for he went on:

"You haven't got anybody by sitting here or strutting around the village. Why don't you go about everywhere and talk your best? Why, there's Mick McTwyny, a village rowdy, who's working for a sergeant's position in the same regiment—he's enlisted seven men out of the fire engine company alone!"

"Mick McTwyny!" exclaimed Cloyne, springing to his feet.

"That ignorant ruffian?" shouted Hamilton, also rising hastily. "Has he the impudence to want to be a sergeant in our regiment—perhaps our very company?"

"Yes," said Brainard, "and he'll be one, too, if he keeps on as he's begun."

I didn't say much; I couldn't. A whole dictionary could scarcely have supplied words to express what I felt. For a while, as I imagined Mick in camp in a sergeant's uniform and myself a private in the same company and subject to his orders, I wished it had been I instead of poor Whyde who had been drowned. Hamilton and Cloyne began to pace the floor like tigers in a cage. Suddenly Hamilton stopped and exclaimed:

"There's but one way out of it. We must get more men at any cost. I'll have a handbill printed at once and circulated throughout the county saying that larger bounties will be paid at this office than at any other in the United States. 'Twill cost all the money and property I have, I suppose, but I'd rather lose my last dollar than go out again in the ranks with a beast like Mick McTwyny in authority over me."

"I'll distribute your handbills," said Brainard.

That boy's faculty for seeing what ought to be done always persisted in cropping out just when I wasn't in condition to see anything whatever. Pretty soon, however, the old worry about soldiering under Mick McTwyny and of being three years without Brainard's society came back to me, fully prepared to stay and make itself disagreeable.

I don't know how I should have lived through those days if it hadn't been for my saber and spurs and the chance to display them on horseback. Arms were not given out at recruiting stations. We were told, when we received our uniforms, we would have to wait until we reached the regiment for sabers, revolvers, carbines and ammunition, but I learned that there was no law against a soldier purchasing for himself such arms as his branch of the service used, so I bought a saber and belt and took great comfort from the clank of the saber as I dragged it after me in dismounted cavalry fashion. Then I bought a pair of spurs, and as my father lent me a horse with which to ride about to look for recruits, I had the pleasure of feeling that I was the first cavalry soldier that had been seen in our county since the Revolutionary war ended. I enjoyed my spurs, too, after I learned not to strike their teeth into my trousers legs. Our horse Rover did not agree with me. For several years I had found him entirely trustworthy under the saddle, but one day when I was approaching a country store in front of which stood several men, among whom I hoped to find at least one recruit, I gave Rover the spurs so as to dash up to the group in fine style and make them fall to admiring the cavalry service. Rover had never before felt a spur, and as he was a thoughtful, sagacious animal, he stopped short, turned his head and looked at his sides to see what had caused the new sensation.

"Get up, Rover!" said I. He resumed the gentle pace at which he had been traveling, but we were now only a few rods from the store, so I again used the spurs. Rover bounded wildly forward. Then he reared his hind quarters high in the air. I went head first over his shoulders, neck and ears, and almost before I knew what had happened I was on my face and breast in a disgusting puddle such as is always found by the pump in front of a country store. At the same time I heard a chorus of hard laughter, and as I picked myself up and rubbed the mud from my face a man in the crowd drawled:

"That hoss 'pears to be a rebel sympathizer, colonel."

I lost all interest in the war for a few moments; being called "colonel" didn't comfort me at all. I didn't ask any one to join the Thirty-eighth. I merely picked up my cap, mounted Rover and went on as if my errand would carry me farther. Even then my humiliation was not complete, for some one shouted:

"Hadn't ye better take yer frog sticker with ye?"

I looked back and saw one of the men with my saber in his hand. It had fallen from the scabbard as I went down. As I rode back to get it the man who held it was trying the edge with his thumb.

"That won't make no reb feel unhappy," said the fellow as he handed me the weapon. "I've got an edge like the back of a hoe."

I sheathed the sword and passed on without even saying "Thank you." I rode until I reached a bit of wooded land. There I dismounted, removed my spurs and buried them in the hollow of a rotten stump, where I found them after the war ended. They hang in my bedroom now to give me a friendly warning whenever I am tempted to put on airs about anything.

STEPPED AGAINST A HOT STOVE.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by all druggists. 11-14-1m

STRONG WOMEN

When an Indian wished to heap insult upon a captured foe, he called him a squaw, a woman, one having no wisdom for the council and no courage for the fight. It is not so long ago that the word woman stood in our own language as a synonym of mental and physical weakness. It was held that weakness was a womanly attribute. To be "strong-minded" was unwomanly, to be athletic was "mannish"; and the "strong-minded and mannish woman" was not the type approved by marriageable men. To-day woman in general has proved herself the equal of man in intellectual strength. In tests of physical endurance and muscular skill as in swordmanship, bicycle racing, etc., individual women have proved themselves equal to the strongest men. But it must be admitted that the average of strength among women is far below the average of strength among men. That women can cultivate the same physical strength as men is proved by those who have done so. That the mass of women are physically weak is evidenced in every community by those who find the common duties of the household a strain upon their strength.

There must be a reason for this general physical weakness of women, and that reason is found in the very functions which differentiate the sexes, or in what may be called the womanly organism. While there is monthly regularity the woman loses nothing by fulfilling this function of her sex. But the moment the regularity is disturbed or becomes abnormal either by suppression or excess, at once there is a loss of physical strength. So, also, when there are unhealthy drains, or the womanly organism is attacked by the fire of inflammation or the gnawing ulcer, at once nervous and muscular strength are alike depleted.

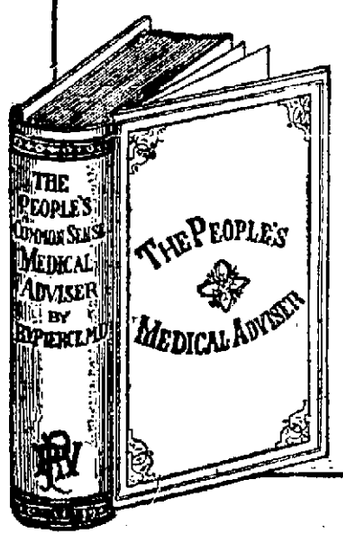
This condition of womanly weakness is neither natural nor necessary. This is proved by the strong women who suffer from none of these weakening ailments, and by the weak women who have been made strong when their diseases were cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In the testimonials which follow, women tell their own story of their suffering and their cure.

"When I first wrote to Dr. Pierce concerning my health," writes Mrs. Mollie E. Carpenter, of Linaria, Cumberland Co., Tenn., "I was so weak I could hardly walk and could only write a few words until I would have to rest. Words cannot express my suffering: dimness of sight, palpitation, shortness of breath, black spots, or else shining lights before my eyes, terrible headache, numbness in my arms, hands, tongue and jaws; constipation, falling of the uterus, disagreeable drains, soreness through my bowels; in fact, I was diseased from head to foot. Now I can do my own washing and cooking. I can take a ten-quart pail in one hand and a six-quart pail in the other (full of water), and carry both one-fourth of a mile, and never stop to rest. I am as heavy as I was at 19 (125 pounds). I used thirty bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and twenty-five vials of "Pleasant Pellets.' If any lady suffering as I have been will write to Dr. Pierce and get his advice and use his medicines according to directions, a cure will surely result."

"I was a great sufferer two years ago with female trouble, and I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Mattie Hays, of Tribulation, McDonald Co., Missouri. "You outlined a course of treatment for me. I followed your directions, and now feel like a different person. In three days after I began taking your medicines I began to feel better. I took twenty dollars' worth of the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I would not take one thousand dollars for the good the medicine has done me. I can't praise it enough. I wish all who suffer from such troubles would give Dr. Pierce's medicines a fair trial. I can work all day—doing anything, walk where I please, and feel good. Many thanks to you for your kind advice."

Those who read the above testimonials will notice the reference in them to correspondence with Dr. Pierce.

Sick women, especially those suffering from chronic forms of disease, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held in sacred secrecy and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in their personal consultations with women, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.



Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is essentially a woman's medicine. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It cures also nervousness and sleeplessness, encourages the appetite, and is especially valuable as a preparation for maternity by increasing muscular strength and elasticity and making the baby's advent practically painless.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." No other put-up medicine for woman's use has so great a record of remarkable cures to recommend it.

SCHOOL BOOK LAW ASSAILED

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES GIVE IT BAD REPUTE.

Say It is Only Good for the Companies—Favor Better Pay for Teachers.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—The greater part of yesterday was devoted by the Indiana Trustees' association to the discussion of needed legislation. The morning was given to talks on defects in the school and road laws of Indiana. For more than an hour the trustees discussed the school laws of the state and there were numerous recommendations for changes.

John W. Gibney, of Wabash county, opened the session with a paper on "Needed Legislation for Indiana Schools." Mr. Gibney assailed the present text-book law and his opinions concerning a revision of the law were heartily concurred in by the trustees. The school book companies are thorns in the flesh of the trustees. Mr. Gibney said that the present school book law was good only for the book companies, and he urged that the law be repealed or the law so revised that the trustees would not be compelled to act as the agents of the book companies.

He said that the books should again be placed in the hands of the book dealers. It is a sweetmeat for the book companies when they can kill the jobbers' profit by making a trustee a book agent, was the opinion offered by Mr. Gibney. The speaker also referred to a growing sentiment in favor of free text-books. He believed that a future legislature would give Indiana children free text-books.

Mr. Gibney urged the repeal of the law that makes it unlawful for a township trustee to be re-elected. He also urged the codification of the school laws of Indiana, so as to prevent further confusion.

DEALERS SHOULD SELL BOOKS.

Louis Schirmeyer, of Allen county, discussed the same topic. He also attacked the school book law and urged that the state get out of the book-combine business. He believed that the books should be placed in the hands of the dealers. Mr. Schirmeyer also advocated better pay for teachers.

In his advocacy of better pay for teachers Mr. Schirmeyer found a hearty champion in J. W. Dragoo, of Delaware county. Mr. Dragoo said that unless the wages of the school teachers of Indiana were increased the state could not be expected to maintain a high standard of education.

"I have known teachers who have spent the best part of their days teaching at a small salary," said Mr. Dragoo. "Now they are almost paupers, because they gave the best part of their lives for nothing. Raise the pay of our teachers and you raise the standard of our schools."

Mr. Dragoo's appeal met with hearty applause.

The subject was discussed by J. P. Butt, of Allen county; G. M. Gavin, of Wells county; Orlando Shandy, of Pike county; M. H. Trusler, of Fayette county; Lafayette Kimmerling, of Madison county, and B. B. Sprague, of Steuben county.

NEW OFFICERS.

New officers have been elected by the association, as follows:

President—Philip Sullivan, of Miami county.

Vice President—B. F. Stalker, of Clark county.

Secretary—Louis W. Dunfee, of Whitley county.

Treasurer—William H. Goff, of Vermilion county.

The new district chairmen selected were as follows: First district, D. W. Smith, of Princeton; Second district, Bernard McAfee, of Mitchell; Third district, Isaac Phipps, of Jeffersonville; Fourth district, James Stewart, of Madison; Fifth district, S. R. Davis, of North Salem; Sixth district, Ora Sanders, of Middletown; Seventh district, Pearson Mendenhall, of Indianapolis; Eighth district, J. M. Bloss, of Muncie; Ninth district, C. W. McReynolds, of Cassville; Tenth district, James O. GOVERNOR NOW VERY ANGRY

MORE COMPLAINTS AGAINST REFORMATORY BOARD.

Board Sought Other Men Than Byers for Jeffersonville Berth—Were After Bicknell.

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—The row between Governor Durbin and the board of managers of the Jeffersonville reformatory, in which the governor is said to be seeking punishment for the managers because they did not select his candidate for the superintendency, continues.

It has developed that the board made offers to others outside Indiana besides Joseph T. Byers, of Columbus, Ohio, who was finally selected to succeed Superintendent Hert.

An offer was made to Ernest P. Bicknell, secretary of the Associated Charities at Chicago. When Mr. Bicknell told the Chicago charity organization of the Indiana offer his salary was promptly increased $1,000, and he was told that Chicago would not consent to lose him.

The board of managers, it develops, wrote to Major R. W. McLaughry, warden of the United States military prison at Leavenworth, Kas., and asked him if he would consider an offer. Major McLaughry replied that he did not care to leave government service.

A similar offer was made to Henry W. Wolfer, warden of the Minnesota state prison at Stillwater, Minn. Both Major McLaughry and Mr. Wolfer have gained wide reputation by their administration of prison affairs.

THE GOVERNOR'S CANDIDATE.

It is said that Governor Durbin learned a few days ago that four men outside the state, including Joseph T. Byers, the secretary of the Ohio state board of charities, who was chosen, were considered by the managers as successors to Mr. Hert, and that this fact has increased the governor's wrath. At first he thought only Mr. Byers had been considered without his knowledge.

It is said that the governor had expected to make Sid Conger, of Flat Rock, Ind., superintendent of the reformatory and that he expected the board of managers to obey his orders and to appoint his man.

Nothing has been given out at the governor's office in regard to the trouble with the board of managers of the Jeffersonville reformatory. It is the governor's policy to refuse to discuss it. If he takes any official action, the action is to speak for itself.

The state house officers are somewhat divided on the merits of the controversy. Those that were interviewed objected to having their names appear, but the most of them expressed the opinion that the managers set about deliberately to snub the governor and that they should have consulted with the governor, even if they did not follow his advice in the election of a successor to Supt. A. T. Hert.

REBELLION MAY BREAK OUT.

Members of other public institution boards have had controversies with the governor, and the prediction is heard that rebelling will break out in new quarters.

A close friend of the governor, who is acquainted with the policies of the administration, says that the governor has been firm in requiring that appropriations be spent for the purpose for which they were appropriated, and for no other purpose. For instance, he says that the governor has flat-footedly refused to let a balance in the appropriation for maintenance be used in buildings, although more than one board has asked him to consent to it, arguing that there was no use in going to the legislature when the money was already within reach.

The governor has forbidden superintendents of institutions to leave their posts of duty to go, for instance, to attend some kind of conference without first obtaining the consent of the boards of control, the friend of the governor says. This requirement had the effect, he thinks, of offending some of the superintendents, but it was regarded as a necessary rule, because of the practice that had grown up among heads of institutions of going away and remaining for many days at the expense of the state.

Another rule of the governor is that not all the members of a board may attend a conference on questions concerning the management of state institutions at the expense of the state, but that a board shall select one of its members who may attend at state expense.

IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH AFFAIRS

The governor has kept in close touch with affairs of all the institutions, it is said, and he has frequently called boards into conference about matters that some of the board members thought they could deal with without the governor's advice. The governor's especial effort, it is said by his friends, is to insist on economy, and some of his requests are not well received by the boards.

It is learned from men close to the governor that Ernest P. Bicknell, formerly secretary of the board of state charities, is regarded, together with A. T. Hert, as a ringleader in the recent move of the board of managers of the Jeffersonville reformatory. The two are friends and are associated in a newspaper enterprise at Fort Wayne.

"A MODERN MAGDALEN" TONIGHT.

Great interest is being manifested in the forthcoming engagement of Amelia Bingham's Special company, presenting the great play, "A Modern Magdalen." No play produced in recent years has met with greater success and been more enthusiastically received than has this one. It will be presented at the Temple tonight. The company comprises such eminent artists as Roselle Knott and W. J. Ferguson, with an array of names such as Franklyn Roberts, Daniel Jarrett, Victor M. De Silke, Charles Mason, Harry Lillford, George Spink, Bernard McGuire, Frederick Leet, Agnes Findlay, Katherine Fisher, Marion Johnson, Laura Osborn, Alice Melville, Eveline Haven. The New York Journal says: "No such play has been seen in years. The company is the best acting one in America, the production complete in every detail and our theater goers will be offered an opportunity to see a grand play of great power and absorbing interest."

NEW DIPLOMAT IS WEALTHY.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 21.—Leslie Combs, of Kentucky, who has resigned as state pension agent and has been appointed by President Roosevelt minister to Guatemala, is the son of General Leslie Combs, who distinguished himself as a soldier in the union army. He is one of the largest tobacco raisers in the country and his 1,000-acre farm in Fayette county is entirely given over to the production of the weed. He is 54 years old and has figured prominently in state politics for some years, having been chairman of the republican campaign committee when McKinley carried the state.

AN OLD SORE

Will sour the sweetest disposition and transform the most even tempered, lovable nature into a cross-grained and irritable individual.

If impatience or fault-finding are ever excusable it is when the body is tortured by an eating and painful sore. It is truly discouraging to find after months of diligent and faithful use of external remedies that the place remains as defiant, angry and offensive as ever. Every chronic sore, no matter on what part of the body it comes, is an evidence of some previous constitutional or organic trouble, and that the dregs of these diseases remain in the system; or, it may be that some long hidden poison—perhaps Cancer—has come to the surface and begun its destructive work.

The blood must be purified before the sore will fill up with healthy flesh and the skin regains its natural color. It is through the circulation that the acrid, corroding fluids are carried to the sore or ulcer and keep it irritated and inflamed. S. S. S. will purify and invigorate the stagnant blood when all sediment or other hurtful materials are washed out, fresh rich blood is carried to the diseased parts, new tissues form, and the decaying flesh begins to have a healthy and natural look; the discharge ceases and the sore heals.

SSS

S. S. S. is the only blood purifier that is guaranteed entirely vegetable. It builds up the blood and tones up the general system as no other medicine does. If you have a sore of any kind, write us and get the advice of experienced and skilled physicians for which no charge is made. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases, free.

Several years ago, my wife had a severe sore leg and was treated by the best physicians but received no benefit. Our druggist advised her to try S. S. S., which she did. Fourteen bottles cured her and she has been well ever since.

"Sell, If You Have to Slaughter."

The above is the MESSAGE from our Dayton Manager.

Necessity knows no law, and it is now necessary for us to slaughter goods, as owing to the backward season we are sadly overcrowded. In making this statement we wish the public to distinctly understand that we are not uttering an idle boast. We are just at present sadly overcrowded. Our Dayton manager has ordered us to sell in one week a stock that would ordinarily last a month. We have telegraphed him our difficulty, and he has replied:

"Sell, If You Have to Slaughter!"

We have, in consequence, marked goods at amazingly low prices, and if we don't close out every garment in our parlors it will be because the public did not appreciate bargains. It will pay you to buy of us now even if new clothing will not be needed for a year to come. It will be an investment that will pay you at least 100 per cent. If you value money come and buy now.

It is Prices that Tell, and People do Appreciate Low Prices.
